Defiantly not an insider joke. Anyone may join in the laughter at the Honest Joan knitting circle as the harpies discuss gayness, penis size, arse licking, cocksucking, and their latest fascination, introduced by the Hon. Sec. Naked Gonad: foreskins of babies and young boys! I don't think they've yet got round to ladybois but give them time.

even when you stop, they keep doing it, maybe, but if they say something once or twice a DAY, it's better than you and him doing it dozens of times a day, screwing up the newsgroups for both his & your personal pleasure.

He want (the poster hopes for fasism but he is not going to get it from McCain . Palin is too much of a cypher and too unskilled to do much if she suceeds McCain to POTUS

He said... I don't know why you wear a bra; you've got nothing to put in it.
She said...You wear briefs, don't you?

He said....Do you love me just because my father left me a fortune?
She said...Not at all honey, I would love you no matter who left you the money.

She said...What do you mean by coming home half drunk?
He said....It's not my fault...I ran out of money.

He said... Since I first laid eyes on you, I've wanted to make love to you in the worst way.
She said...Well, you succeeded.

He said... What have you been doing with all the grocery money I gave you?
She said...Turn sideways and look in the mirror.

He said... Let's go out and have some fun tonight.
She said...Okay, but if you get home before I do, leave the hallway light on.

He said... Why don't you tell me when you have an orgasm?
She said...I would, but you're never there.

He said....Shall we try a different position tonight?
She said...That's a good idea, you stand by the ironing board while I sit on the sofa and pass gas."

An 85-year-old man went to his doctor's office to get a sperm count. The doctor gave the man a jar and said, "Take this jar home and bring back a semen sample tomorrow."
The next day the 85-year-old man reappeared at the doctor's office and gave him the jar, which was as clean and empty as on the previous day. The doctor asked what happened and the man explained: "Well, doc, it's like this - First I tried with my right hand, but nothing.

Then I tried with my left hand, but still nothing.
Then I asked my wife for help. She tried with her right hand, then her left, still nothing. She tried with her mouth, first with the teeth in, then with her teeth out, and still nothing. We even called up Arleen, the lady next door and she tried too, first with both hands, then an armpit and she even tried squeezin' it between her knees, but still nothing." The doctor was shocked! "You asked your neighbour?" The old man replied, "Yep. And no matter what we tried, we still couldn't get the jar open."

why?

Because, both him & you are screwing up the group for dozens of other people.
Him, because he gets his kicks by calling you names, making false accusations and the reaction he get from you posting dozens of times a day, clogging the groups with complete nonsense.

>You say that > even when you stop, they keep doing it, maybe, but if they say something
> once or twice a DAY, it's better than you and him doing it dozens of times

why are you lying and being the very troll

I'm not lying, nor am I troll, so don't try to now shift blame from him and yourself.

I take no pleasure from it at all

It sure seems like it, most sane people would have long ago stopped responding to such nonsense.

OTOH I am doing nothing to screw up the NG he is, all I am doing making all of us have equal access to the NG as is my right

Of course you have equal access, I and I'm sure most people would agree.
The troll is getting his jollies by making you upset and post dozens of times,
thus accomplishing exactly what he wants, completely useless newsgroups.

I am tired of the answered crap being out there unanswered as along as google lasts it causes me some problem that way

now I have said this many time and you have read it many times additionaly if I answer them as I do he keeps coming back with less hamrfull crap than he goes for if I remain silent

OMG!!! Sorry, if what he says is libel (As you have claimed dozens of times), then get a lawyer and sue him, plain & simple. If what he says is slanderous, get a lawyer and sue him, plain & simple. If none of the above applies, then why should we all suffer for what he says towards you??

and why should I remain selient if I keep this up he will lose his access as he ramps it up

Excuse me??? He hasn't lost a thing, same ISP # thats been giving you a hard time for at least the past 3 years. Again, hire a lawyer and sue him, otherwise all your doing is making his claims as truth.

current ramp up is because he has lost access to another forum he values and this is "punishment" but he is will tos himself back to normal levels in a few days

Sure, if you say so, but I guess this is a normal way of life for you, not anyone else, but ok for you.

This is the place where American Jews gather to volunteer and support the Barack Obama candidacy.

We publish the Jews for Obama Newsletter to educate our readers about Obama and give them the tools and knowledge they need to effectively represent him to their communities. We run the Jews for Obama group at My.BarackObama.com. We have extensive one-click email replies to the ?Schvitz Boat? smears which circulate through our community. We keep up-to-date Resources with news items, actions, petitions to sign, and media clips of Barack?s interaction with our community. Finally, we have a rich trove of endorsement transcripts and videos which you can send to your friends based on who they respect.

Ohhhh, you think I pay attention to your lames. Nah, they're just proof of your homophobia. Apparently, the Dems still have some 'phobes around.

I reply to lots of x-poasted threads all over usenet, from AUK, and you are one more fan club to me. As for my bisexuality, I have never made that a secret, because secrets get out. Mark kept it a secret, and it got out, to you or one of your friends in the fan club. That's why he came out, after all. Also, I ignore an awful lot of posts from the MMFC completely, because you don't often have new things to say.

>> You, however, haven't been "poking" Mark in years

Waitasec, I thought I was the "cum receptacle". Can you please get your lames worked out? Anyway, I've been poking _you_ for years, off-and-on (you may have noticed a 13-month period where I didn't bother with you at all -- RuneScape was much more enjoyable than usenet, until I got bored with that again), and you keep coming back with ranting foam about Mark.

I've never voted Conservative in my life. NDP all the way. If it looks like a duck, quacks like a duck, and walks like a duck, but doesn't answer to "Will Dockery"*, I tend to assume it's probably a duck, not a rhinoceros.

[*] http://www.kookpedia.net/index.php/Will_Dockery

> Try again, Corky.

You lame like a Rethug, so I assume you're a Rethug. Check out misc.survivalism sometime, and look up <hothamandcheese>, "Jerry", and "Gunner Asch" sometime. Or "Patriot Games", but he's in lots of groups. Rethugs and homophobes all, though at least one will claim not to care about sexuality, just before gay-laming.

> You should really know what the fuck you are yammering about before you

Well, if you'd come out from behind your masks and own your sockpuppets (just in your usual usenet nyms, even), I might be interested in bothering. I don't happen to give a fuck about the details of anonymous cowards, though. As a point of fact, there's a long list of names which have been applied to me by various posters over the past nine years in that previous nym's headers, and the lists referenced in my .sig aren't there just for show -- an actual Outer Filthing stalker posted such lists, with RL names and everything. All of your work has been done for you, aside from the gruelling bit of Googling.

Yes, that's right, responding to a troll is a _Very_Bad_Thing_.

If people answer to a troll post, things go for a shit in all the groups the post goes to. Just imagine how bad it could be if, in the course of responding to a troll, one - or even worse, several - people add even more groups to their response? I mean good grief, it wouldn't require many cycles of replies until all of usenet was caught up in a virtual shit-storm of replies to one single troll.

Mind you, there is something even more insidious than responding to a troll. That would be replying to the responder in order to castigate s/h/it for responding to the troll in the first place.

People who do that should be pummelled repeatedly, energetically and with malice aforesight with a two-week-dead trout.

Three women friends, one in a casual relationship, one engaged to be married and one a long-time wife, met for drinks after work . The conversation eventually drifted towards how best to spice up their sex lives.

After much discussion, they decided to surprise their men by engaging in some S&M role playing.

The following week they met up again to compare notes. Sipping her drink, the single girl leered and said, 'Last Friday at the end of the work day I went to my boyfriend's office wearing a leather coat. When all the other people had left, I slipped out of it and all I had on was a leather bodice, black stockings and stiletto heels. He was so aroused that we made mad passionate love on his desk right then and there!'

The engaged woman giggled and said, 'That's pretty much my story! When my fianc&#65533; got home last Friday, he found me waiting for him in a black mask, leather bodice, black hose and stiletto pumps. He was so turned on that we not only made love all night, he wants to move up our wedding date!

The married woman put her glass down and said, 'I did a lot of planning. I made arrangements for the kids to stay over at Grandma's. I took a long scented-oil bath and then put on my best perfume. I slipped into a tight leather bodice, a black garter belt, black stockings and six-inch stilettos. I finished it off with a black mask, ready for action.

When my husband got home from work, he grabbed a beer and the remote, sat down and yelled, 'Hey, Batman, what's for dinner???'

Rosh Hashanah
(Hebrew: Rosh Ha-Shanah)
The Jewish New Year begins on the first day of Tishri. It marks the start of the TEN DAYS OF PENITENCE, which end on the DAY OF ATONEMENT. In the Bible, Rosh Ha-Shanah is referred to as falling on the first day of the seventh month (Lev. 23:24). During rabbinic times, it came to be regarded as a day of judgement for the entire world, on which each person's fate is inscribed in the BOOK OF LIFE. During the festival service, which is traditionally observed in white vestments, the SHOFAR is blown and other rituals are introduced. Traditionally it is observed for two days.
Tzimmes of Yesteryear

Serves 8

Carrots:

1/2 pound carrots, peeled and sliced in rounds

1/2 cup brown sugar

A squirt of honey

2 or 3 prunes (optional)

Kneidlach:

1/2 pound schmaltz--unrendered/raw chicken fat (or 1.5 sticks margarine, if you must)

1 white onion

1/2 pound flour (a mixture of white flour and course semolina is optimal)

3/4 teaspoons salt

1/4 teaspoon course ground pepper

Optional

A piece brisket or flanken

1 white onion

Salt and pepper

Place the carrots in a bowl. Add the sugar and honey. Stir well and let sit in the refrigerator at least a few hours, preferably overnight.

Preheat the oven to 400 degrees and place the carrot-sugar mixture in a large casserole dish. Add the prunes if you're using them.

Chop the onions and place in another bowl. Chop the schmaltz and add to the onions. Add the flour, salt, and pepper. Start mixing with a wooden spoon and then knead with your hands until it becomes doughy. Roll the dough like a sausage and place it in the center of the casserole dish, with the carrot mixture.

If including the optional meat, rub the brisket with salt and pepper. Sautee an onion and pan-sear the brisket in the same pan. Bury the meat under the carrots, together with the kneidlach mixture.

The carrots should have released some liquid. Depending on the amount of moisture, add some water--just enough so the carrots are covered.

Cover the dish and place it in the oven. After 15 minutes, turn the temperature down to 320 degrees. Cook for about three to four hours, checking periodically to make sure the dish doesn't boil over.

Can be frozen and reheated.

Tzimmes of Tomorrow
Serves 8

1 tablespoon olive oil

A small bunch of scallions, a leek, or a bunch of chives

1 pound carrots, peeled and sliced

1/4 cup honey (or a little less of agave nectar)

1 cup apple juice or apple cider

1/4 teaspoon salt

Choose three of the following (what suits your taste):

1 cinnamon stick (discard before serving)

1/2 teaspoon ground nutmeg

1 teaspoon ground cumin

1/2 teaspoon freshly grated ginger

2 teaspoons chopped fresh mint

2 or 3 cloves in cheesecloth (discard before serving)

1/4 cup coarsely chopped shelled walnuts or pistachios

Sautee the onions in the oil for a minute. Add the carrots and when browned, add everything else, including whatever spices you've chosen. Bring to a boil in a large pot. Reduce the heat to low, cover, and simmer for 15 minutes, or until the carrots are very soft. Remove and discard cinnamon stick and cloves before serving.

I knocked at heaven's door this morning.

God asked me.
'My child, what can I do for you?'

And I said, 'Father, please protect and bless the person reading this message.'

God smiled and answered...'Request granted'.

If you believe, send this to seven people and the one who sent it to you.

By doing this, you have succeeded in praying for eight people today.
And remember:
'Be kinder than necessary, for everyone you meet is fighting some kind of battle.'

THIS IS PRETTY NEAT.
93% won't forward this?

It is not the years in your life

But the life in your years.

A first-grade teacher was having trouble with one of her students. The teacher asked, "Little Johnny what is your problem?"

Little Johnny answered, "I'm too smart for the first-grade. My sister is in the third-grade and I'm smarter than she is! I think I should be in the third-grade too!"

The teacher had enough. She took Little Johnny to the principal's office. While Little Johnny waited in the outer office, the teacher explained to the principal what the situation was. The principal told the teacher he would give the boy a test and if he failed to answer any of his questions he was to go back to the first-grade and behave. The teacher agreed. Little Johnny was brought in and the conditions were explained to him and he agreed to take the test.

Principal: "What is 3 x 3?"
Little Johnny: "9"

Little Johnny: "36"

And so it went with every question the principal thought a third-grade should know. The principal looks at the teacher and tells her, "I think Little Johnny can go to the third-grade."
The teacher says to the principal, "Let me ask him some questions?" The principal and Little Johnny both agree.

Teacher: "What does a cow have four of that I have only two of?
Little Johnny: "Legs"

Teacher: "What is in your pants that you have but I do not have?" (The principal wondered, why does she ask such a question!)
Little Johnny: "Pockets"

Teacher: "What does a dog do that a man steps into?"
Little Johnny: "Pants"

Teacher: What's starts with a C and ends with a T, is hairy, oval, delicious and contains thin whitish liquid?"
(The principal's eyes open really wide and before he could stop the answer...)
Little Johnny: "Coconut"

Teacher: "What goes in hard and pink then comes out soft and sticky?"
Little Johnny: "Bubblegum"

Teacher: "What does a man do standing up, a woman do sitting down and a dog do on three legs?" (The principal's eyes open really wide and before he could stop the answer...)
Little Johnny: "Shake hands"

Teacher: "Now I will ask some '"Who am I" sort of questions, okay?"
Little Johnny: "Yup"

Teacher: "You blow me, you feel good" Little Johnny: "Nose"

Teacher: "I have a stiff shaft. My tip penetrates. I come with a quiver" Little Johnny: "Arrow"

Teacher: "What word starts with an 'F' and ends in 'K' that means a lot of excitement?"
Little Johnny: "Firetruck"

The principal breathed a sigh of relief and told the teacher, "Put his ass in the fifth-grade, I got the last ten questions wrong myself!"

In the 60's people took acid to make the world weird.
Now the world is weird, people take prozac to make it normal.

Ways To Be Offensive At A Funeral:

Tell the undertaker that he can't close the coffin until you find your contact lens.
Drive behind the widow's limo and keep honking your horn.
At the cemetery, play taps on a kazoo.
Ask the widow if you can have the body to practice tattooing on.
Put Crazy Glue on the deceased's lips just before the widow's last kiss.
Circulate a petition to have the body stuffed instead of buried.
Tell the undertaker that your dog just died and ask if he can sneak him into the coffin.

The purpose of this petition is to inform the FCC of how many amateur radio operators believe that KB9RQZ does not fit the character qualifications to possess an amateur radio license.

Over the past several years KB9RQZ has lodged dozens of false complaints against innocent ham radio operators, he has reported numerous individuals to various law enforcement agencies for crimes such as, sexual abuse to children, sexual abuse to animals, sexual abuse to the elderly, and he has also reported a few as suspects in murder cases.

KB9RQZ also authors several on-line blogs which he uses to libel and defame his fellow amateur radio operators, presumably for his own perverse pleasure, such as khkb9rqz.blogspot.com

Fortunately, all of KB9RQZ's victims have been cleared of any wrong doing, and some are even in the process of filing legal suits against him.

I ask you all to contribute to this noble cause, and help bring an end to the vicious cycle of abuse, libel, slander, and defamation that KB9RQZ has perpetrated against the ham radio community.

For more information on KB9RQZ please visit some informative websites such as ve7kfm.com, w4nti.blogspot.com, or simply Google the call.

Thank you.

No. Still very much in use. And well used in disaster situations. Very interesting technology as well such as Winlink 2000 http://www.winlink.org/ which lets you send an email a few thousand miles via radio in the event of a wide spread outage. Such as the recent hurricanes in the southern USA where cell phone coverage died after 12 hours as they only had batteries. Or if you are sailing or boating in non cell phone covered areas. Or if you are in areas not covered by cell phone.

You have weird definitions for words. Can you tell the difference between "playing a role in ending the Morse code requirement" and "being the mover and shaker who ends it"?

Please put your answer in these brackets:

Thank GOD you don't work for the FCC, there would be a lot of hams in trouble, The problem I have with this is ham radio IS a HOBBY!! and people who purpose such stupid idea's take the hobby to serious and have no life.

no concern to the FCC, the FCC has jurisdiction over radio, they may view character qualifications if someone has been found guilty of violating a Law.

The FCC has NO JURISDICTION OVER THE INTERNET per Kevin Martin, Chairman of the FCC, and the FCC can not use anything from off the internet to question a licensee's character qualifications, the reason is the FCC would have to go to court over it and there is the issue of the First Amendment., Both the FCC doesn't want to do.

Sure they are, they been saying that now for a few years, but nothings happen...perhaps they really don't have a case, or perhaps something might come out that will convict them of violating the law and individuals civil rights and liberties.

Again, What he says on the INTERNET IS NOT HAM RADIO, and thus NOT THE JURISDICTION OF THE FCC!

Unfortunately, the OP faked you out of your shoes. You were crossposting to almost every group in creation while following up with your preachy post. You gave the OP what he wanted.

BTW, that's exactly what kb9rqz does, except that he INTENDS to disrupt the news groups. You, OTOH, were duped.

he can't tell the difference anymore than he can't tell the difference between Bi and gay

he can't tell the difference being people and rapists of children

Excuse me???? where did I claim you or anyone else was a child rapist??? as for difference between Bi or gay, it's matter of opinion, either way you would have sex with another male, while maintaining a relationship with a female, that means you are bisexual with sexual feelings towards both genders. Having sex with one of same gender is gay sex, not talking about bi sexuality, 2 different meanings.
By the way Mark, nice job of now working in "Sex" as part of this thread, again you have proven that you are the one that introduces it into threads, where it wasn't there before.

Your heart's an empty hole.
Your brain is full of spiders,
You've got garlic in your soul.
Mr. Mark.

I wouldn't touch you, with a

You're a vile one, Mr. Mark.
You have termites in your smile.

Your soul is full of gunk.
Mr. Mark.

The three words that best describe you, are, and I quote: "Stink. Stank. Stunk."

You're a rotter, Mr. Mark.
You're the king of sinful sots.
Your heart's a dead tomato splot
With moldy purple spots,
Mr. Mark.

Your soul is an apalling dump heap overflowing with the most disgraceful assortment of deplorable rubbish imaginable,
Mangled up in tangled up knots.

You nauseate me, Mr. Mark.
With a nauseaus super-naus.
You're a crooked jerky jockey
And you drive a crooked horse.
Mr. Mark.

You're a three decker saurkraut and toadstool
With arsenic sauce.

He might have gotten confused amid all the forgery. I know /I'm/ well past knowing who's said what about whom, anymore, in RRAP. The fanbois have become adept at hiding behind Mark's name and callsign (as well as my nyms), etc. You, for that matter, sound vaguely like <konstaan>, but that could be entirely coincidental.

...Dude, bisexuality isn't a matter of regularly sleeping with both sexes -- was Anne Heche only gay when she was with Ellen, and only straight after? No, she was bi all along, just like Angelina Jolie. If one is bi, one is bi even when one isn't having sex with any other people. Sexuality is a question of attraction, because being attracted to someone doesn't mean one will have sex with them. It's entirely possible for Mark to be bi and not having sex with anyone except his non-trans wife. The issue only ever came up because some anonymous coward tried to blackmail Mark into silence about the Morse code issue, and he outed himself instead.

> By the way Mark, nice job of now working in "Sex" as part of this thread,

Feh, everything has to do with either sex or death, or both.

Very much so not him (check spelling & grammer, to which Mark has none).
As for him getting confused, possible, but not likely.

OK, I'll some-what agree to that, but still disagree that if one has sex with someone of the same gender, that's homosexual intercourse, to which is considered gay sex. That would then constitute someone that's gay.
I personally couldn't give a rats ass who or what he sleeps with, I'm just sick & tired of the constant "fake" or no reply at all to almost every post made or some how (as with this thread) bring up sexuality into it as if it's
"I'm being attacked because of that" type of mentality.

\in fairness It was not a blackmail by an annymouse the blackmailer was Steve J Robeson K4YZ, done for the express pupose of ralling the anymouse cowards to do his dirtywork after that I did repsond to the blackmail by outing myself in RRAP was already

Proof??

but I never said anything about my lawyer and self defense etc but the sorwn testimony fo my county sheriff given on the subject iof this new

OK, I am wrong about a lawyer, but "county sheriff" is not a lawyer usually,
so legal advice from them is no better than from Snarky (sorry Snark). You did
state a number of times that your "sheriff" told you that you could carry the gun anywhere that it was legal to have one and you said a number of times
felt threatened by. So please don call that a lie.

You have a conceal & carry permit??? I remember reading you said you don't, so how could you carry that into, let say a bowling alley?? Unless there's a sign saying no guns allowed, it's legal (that based upon the laws here in Texas), but that still does not give you the right to pack one around other than on yours or someone else private property with their permission.

Again, "Sheriff" is not an attorney, nor unless you have some sort of written document from the District Attorney, all Hear Say.

Pop scenario for yaa Mark. Earlier in the day one of your 2 admirers said that he was going to be in town looking for you, so you pack "Betsy" into your holster and make your way into town. You and the Mrs. are walking through the shopping district in town, she comments on how nice that China looks in the window of Sears, while another couple is walking ahead of you looking at the Bicycles.
All of a sudden, a loud voice behind screams out "YOU GOD DAMN a hole"
He starts walking over towards you, very angry looking, you don't recognize him, but hey, the sheriff says I can shoot anyone that seam like they are going to threaten
you. He says again, "Hey, I'm talking to you" as he walks even faster at Fearing your life or the little woman's, you pull Betsy, fire off 5 rounds hitting him with three.

Oh, thanks for the lesson ?? But in the future proper netiquette would say that you are quoting the person (being you took my quote and added that in, even though that was never mentioned in my responses). You really should quantify that type of phrase or only put it in where it originally came from.

Little Mark was at school one day, and the Teacher asked all the children to tell her what kind of work their parents did.

Mark replied, "My Mother eats glass."

The Teacher did not know what to make of this,

He said that he heard her at night, in the bedroom, tell Daddy,

"If you put out the light, I'll eat it..

Really??? Show me a thread where you said you have one (you can't). I watched that thread you were in about the Michigan castle law really close, that was asked of you and you said you did not need one, because you were told that if you can have a gun, and it was legal to have it where you were at, you could shoot anyone you thought would be a threat to your life or property.

Also, you didn't answer my quiz I asked of you, why? I'll post it again, just incase
you were confused, I'll take a no answer as you know it was wrong to shot them.

FDA Updates Health Information Advisory on Melamine Contamination
The U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA) is alerting consumers that seven Mr. Brown instant coffee and milk tea products manufactured in China are being recalled by the King Car Food Industrial Co. Ltd. due to possible contamination with melamine. The products, manufactured by China's Shandong Duqing Inc., are:

a.. Mr. Brown Mandheling Blend Instant Coffee (3-in-1)
b.. Mr. Brown Arabica Instant Coffee (3-in-1) c.. Mr. Brown Blue Mountain Blend Instant Coffee (3-in-1) d.. Mr. Brown Caramel Macchiato Instant Coffee (3-in-1)
e.. Mr. Brown French Vanilla Instant Coffee (3-in-1)
f.. Mr. Brown Mandhling Blend instant Coffee (2-in-1)
g.. Mr. Brown Milk Tea (3-in-1)
The FDA recommends that consumers not consume any of the above Mr. Brown instant coffee and milk tea products. The FDA also recommends that retailers and foodservice operators remove the products from sale or service.

As of September 25, 2008, the FDA testing of milk based products imported into the United States from China has not found melamine contamination.

The FDA is working with regulatory agencies in other countries. The New Zealand Food Safety Authority reports that its testing of White Rabbit Creamy Candies has shown melamine contamination at high levels. In light of the widespread contamination of milk and milk-based products in China and the New Zealand Food Safety Authority's finding, the FDA recommends that consumers not eat White Rabbit Creamy Candy and that retailers and foodservice operations remove the product from sale or service.
To date, the FDA is not aware of any illnesses in the United States stemming from consumption of either White Rabbit Creamy Candy or the Mr. Brown instant coffee and milk tea products.

Individuals who have experienced any health problems after consuming either White Rabbit Creamy Candy or any of the identified Mr. Brown coffee and tea products are advised to contact their health care professional.

Background
On September 12, 2008, in light of reports from China of melamine contaminated infant formula, the FDA issued a Health Information Advisory to assure the American public that there is no known threat of contamination in infant formula manufactured by companies that have met the requirements to sell such products in the United States. That advisory also warned members of Chinese communities in the United States that infant formula manufactured in China, possibly available for purchase at Asian markets, could pose a risk to infants.

The FDA had contacted the companies who manufacture infant formula for distribution in the United States and received, from the companies, information that they are not importing formula or sourcing milk-based materials from China.

At the same time, the FDA-in conjunction with state and local officials-began a nation-wide investigation to check Asian markets for Chinese manufactured infant formula that may have been brought into the United States. In particular, this effort focused on areas of the country with large Chinese communities, such as Los Angeles, San Francisco, Seattle and New York. To date, investigators have visited more than 1,400 retail markets and have not found Chinese infant formula present on shelves in these markets.

The FDA also advises consumers not to purchase infant formula manufactured in China from Internet sites or from other sources.

The FDA has taken, and will continue to take, proactive measures to help ensure the safety of the American food supply. In conjunction with state and local officials, the FDA will continue to check Asian markets for food items that are imported from China and that could contain a significant amount of milk or milk proteins. In addition, the FDA has broadened its domestic and import sampling and testing of milk-derived ingredients and finished food products containing milk, such as candies, desserts, and beverages that could contain these ingredients from Chinese sources. Milk-derived ingredients include whole milk powder, non-fat milk powder, whey powder, lactose powder, and casein.

In addition to state and local governments, the FDA is working in close cooperation with Customs and Border Protection within the U.S. Department of Homeland Security, the U.S. Department of Agriculture, other federal agencies, and foreign governments.

Look at the posts Mark, I never cut any of the quote out, you OTH did and then injected a comment that was never ever in any of my quotes.

"your inability to to do is strait your have in comon with some of my fan club accordingy it i seem prudent to assume your are already a

I quote correctly???? Please don't try and pass the buck off as my fault.
I was not the one that took my post and inject a comment that was never there. You are the on that did that mark, not I and I pointed that out, politely
by the way and you took offense.
LOL!!!!! Because I point out irregularities on what you post, I point out that you injected a comment, totally off base on a post that I made, when I asked what that was all about you again, take offense at your own mistake and try to shift blame onto me.

That is exactly my only complaint with you, sometimes your posts look and sound normal, then someone points out a problem, you go on some sort of rant that it's the other persons problem, not mine.
I don't think your stupid nor do I think of you as any threat, but you OTH treat everyone that even might only disagree with you (never threaten you, call you names or anything) or point out where you did something wrong as some sort of troll, idiot, a hole ETC ETC. Snarky's considered a kook, usually defends you, because most of these people attack you for no reason at all, OK. But at the sometime, you have to be man enough to admit that you are wrong and move on without any malice, something I have yet seen you do when it's been proven to you.

Yes I do Mark, please don't blame me for what you can't see correctly via Google.

Here's a copy of my original post, where does it say anything about what you injected here

"> he can't tell the difference being people and rapists of children"

You can't Mark, argue all you want, you are the one the wrote that in for your benefit, not me. So please don't tell me I don't quote correct, everything is right
there, no cutting and snipping like others.

why are you lying One I did play a larger than just writing a leter I wrote quite a few letters ans such

Proof??

but I never said anything about my lawyer and self defense etc but the sorwn testimony fo my county sheriff given on the subject iof this new law in lansing

so legal advice from them is no better than from Snarky (sorry Snark). You did
the gun anywhere that it was legal to have one and you said a number of times

that he said if you felt threatened that you could shoot said person you felt threatened by. So please don call that a lie.

many of the mice

OK, so what was this for when you typed it "he can't tell the difference being people and rapists of children" What was it's meaning? I never even had anything like that in one of my responses.

Two women are playing golf on a sunny afternoon when one of them accidentally slices her shot into a foursome of men. To her horror, one of the men collapses in agony, both hands in his crotch. She runs down to him, apologizing profusely, explaining that she is a physical therapist and can help ease his pain.
"No, thanks. Just give me a few minutes. I'll be fine," he replies quietly, hands still between his legs.
Taking it upon herself to help the poor man, she gently unzips his fly and starts massaging his genitals.
"Doesn't that feel better?" she asks."Well, yes. That's feels great," he admits, "but my thumb still hurts like fuck."

no you don't the remainsing sction show it clearly you fail to follow the rule you demends of other fanboi

Yes I do Mark, please don't blame me for what you can't see correctly via Google.

Here's a copy of my original post, where does it say anything about what you
injected here

"> he can't tell the difference being people and rapists of children"

You can't Mark, argue all you want, you are the one the wrote that in for your
is right
there, no cutting and snipping like others.

but I never said anything about my lawyer and self defense etc but the sorwn testimony fo my county sheriff given on the subject iof this new law in lansing

so legal advice from them is no better than from Snarky (sorry Snark). You did
the gun anywhere that it was legal to have one and you said a number of times
felt
threatened by. So please don call that a lie.

K4yz Ab8mq have both accesed me of such under their own names as has
many of the mice

OK, so what was this for when you typed it "he can't tell the difference being people and rapists of children" What was it's meaning? I never even had anything like that in one of my responses.

Two women are playing golf on a sunny afternoon when one of them accidentally slices her shot into a foursome of men. To her horror, one of the men collapses in agony, both hands in his crotch. She runs down to him, apologizing profusely, explaining that she is a physical therapist and can help ease his pain.
"No, thanks. Just give me a few minutes. I'll be fine," he replies quietly, hands still between his legs.
Taking it upon herself to help the poor man, she gently unzips his fly and starts massaging his genitals.

I have both an pen mind and unlike you I do quote correctly

You do not quote properly Mark. I have made 3 posts, all with the very post where you stated I did say something about child rapists, to which it showed very clearly I did not, you were the one that introduced it.

BTW you have never tried to argue you have tried to bully and repat

Would you like me to cut & paste the law directly from the Michigan

Yes:
2) A person shall not carry a pistol concealed on or about his or her person, or, whether concealed or otherwise, in a vehicle operated or occupied by the person, except in his or her dwelling house, place of business, or on other land possessed by the person, without a license to carry the pistol as provided by law and if licensed, shall not carry the pistol in a place or manner inconsistent with any restrictions upon such license.

(3) A person who violates this section is guilty of a felony, punishable by imprisonment for not more than 5 years, or by a fine of not more than $2,500.00.

Call it what you want Mark, it's not "bullying you", it's showing that you're wrong.
If the "Sheriff" "District attorney", whom ever you spoke with told you it was ok to carry the gun around without a CWP, you'll go to jail.

Good luck calling them into court to testify that they said it was ok to carry a gun anywhere without a CWP.

wrong law sir astalking victum may use deadly force to defendthemselves where ever they may lawfully be indeed as I and the sheriff undertsand the law if say K4yz showed I could shoot him on sight the same aplies to w4nti besides I trust the sworn testimony of my local sheriif before the body that enacted the law as to what it means according to him as long as I have reason to belive I am in dnager bang

and to get where they did a section an outbuilding had to be removed from its proper place to provide access that is breaking and entering

Bang if I can he is dead
the sherrif is is full agreemnas is the DA the only concern is that the kid may be dead since no one has shown shown up for treament of the injuries I inflicted

I urgently needed a few days off work,

But, I knew the Boss would not allow me to take leave.

I thought that maybe if I acted 'Crazy' then he would tell me to take a few days off.

So, I hung upside-down on the ceiling and made funny noises.

My co-worker (who's blonde) asked me what I was doing.

I told her that I was pretending to be a light bulb so that the Boss might think I was 'Crazy' and give me a few days off.

A few minutes later the Boss came into the office and asked,

'What in the name of good GOD are you doing? '

I told him I was a light bulb.

He said, 'You are clearly stressed out.' Go home and recuperate for a couple of days.'

I jumped down and walked out of the office...

When my co-worker (the blonde) followed me, the Boss asked her, "And where do you think you're going?!'

She said, 'I'm going home too. I can't work in the dark.

Brad Jesness Memorial Kook Appraisal Test (KAT or KAT Index) v. 5.1 by Cipher and the a.u.k crew

So, you think you've got a contender, eh? Hard to separate the Kooks from the mere pains in the ass though. Hopefully this will help you.

Instructions :
In this section give your Prospective Kook ONE point for every YES answer. Give your Prospective Kook additional points for multiple occurrences.

Grading scale follows questions.

Have they ever :

1. Been the first to go ad-hominem in a newsgroup debate.

2. Accused someone of breaking a non-existent Federal Law.

3. Called a properly formatted cancel of a BI>20 article a *forged

6. Complained to someone's ISP when they got spanked in a flame war.

7. Been complained about to their ISP deservedly.

8. Flamed someone from an anonymous account.

9. Made a spelling flame. (*)

10. Used RANT-CAPS & manic punctuation.

11. Claimed to be qualified to make a legal determination or medical diagnosis with no justification - bonus points if the kook is obviously projecting her/his own condition/behavior. ()

12. Claimed an academic or professional degree they obviously do not have.

13. Claimed that because of a degree or research topic, another poster cannot know anything about any other subject.

In this section give your Prospective Kook TWO points for every YES answer. Give your Prospective Kook additional points for multiple occurrences.

2. Bonus if they called anyone a "Republican Nazi Pedophile"

3. Ranted about Free Speech when an anti-spammer canceled their article.

4. Posted to a newsgroup via sock-puppet.

5. Thought about becoming a Freedom Knight.

11. Claimed an academic or professional degree after having stated they are a high school dropout or otherwise indicated their actual level of achievement, or claim multiple PhD's, MD's, etc.

12. 'Removed' an academic or professional degree or title from another more clueful poster. (Includes scare quotes such as 'Esq.', or 'Dr.')

13. Claimed one of the well known regulars of AUK is using a remailer to impersonate them, when all kook sign points to them.

In this section give your Prospective Kook THREE points for every YES answer. Give your Prospective Kook additional points for multiple occurrences.

1. Threatened to kill or cause bodily harm to another via mail or post.

2. Told someone they have caused the kook to harm himself.

3. Stalked/harassed an opponent off-line.

4. Mail-bombed anyone.

5. Spammed a newsgroup.

6. Posted a forged or altered newsgroup article.

7. Lost an account due to abuse.

8. Won a kook award.

9. Threatened a groundless lawsuit via mail or post. LA Law bonus: Additional point if a TV lawyer is used.)

(Grubor bonus: If they claim John Grubor/Law Systems Institoot as counsel)

10. Threatened to have their "agents" come after someone.

11. Had a FAQ posted about their kookiness.

12. Pretended to be a sysadmin or ISP owner.

13. CC'ed emailed complaints to irrelevant or non-existent organizations email addresses, such as the DOJ, AG, CIA, FBI etc.

14. Been TOSsed and then claimed to have canceled it, her/it/himself?

(*) PalmJob Exception Rule. Cannot be applied to a mere troll's points.

() Brad Jesness Factor. Not applicable to BJ, it is expected.

Scale/Rank :
1 - 10 points : Kook Wannabe. Needs to read Grubor's posting history on dejanews. Your Prospective Kook has much to learn. They may have just screwed up once or twice.

11 - 25 points : Journeyman Kook. Needs to Continue to mimic the real kooks. Your Prospective Kook could be a contender.

26 - 36 points : Kook First Class. Still a lesser light, but Your Prospective Kook HAS arrived! People killfile him/her.

36 - 50 points : Kook cum Laude. Someone is considering writing a FAQ about your Prospective Kook. Has been nominated for at least one a.u.k award.

51 + points : Kook Magna cum Laude. Your Prospective Kook has a FAQ. Your Prospective Kook will eventually win all the big awards. Your Prospective Kook can leap tall newbies with a single bound.

http://www.screedbomb.info/coosn/
Q: Who is eligible for a COOSN?

A: Kookologists with 10 or more verifiable UV points may exchange these points for a Cabal Obsidian Order Sombrero Number.

Q: Who is not eligible for a COOSN?

A: Certified net.kooks; notorious net.cretins; terminally clueless fuckwits; previous winners of kook-awards, unless an official pardon has been granted by the FNVW.

Q: How do I apply for a COOSN?

A: Make a Usenet post to alt.usenet.kooks (crossposting to your favourite newsgroups is acceptable); to ensure that the FNVW actually sees your request, try to use either of the following formats for the subject line:

[COOSN Application] Your name (or best known handle) here
[COOSN Request] Your name (or best known handle) here

Please provide a list of 10 UV points - along with verifiable evidence for each point wherever possible.

Q: Can one Kookologist nominate another Kookologist for a COOSN?

A: Yes, but the proposer should supply a verifiable list of 10 UV points for the nominee at the time of the nomination. Also, the nominee must accept the nomination before a COOSN is issued.

Q: What happens if my Sombrero Number application is refused by the FNVW?

A: The Office of Darth Bawl is always looking for new candidates. Nuff said.

Q: What are "UV points"?
1. Threats of violence, especially death. (one point per kook)
2. Lists, i.e. real lists, not just mentions of two or three names in the same post. One list per kook, unless the lists are clearly meant to serve different purposes.

3. Fanboi sites (one point per kook, not one point per site. Minimum qualification is a whole page about you; pages containing lists don't score extra if the list also appears on Usenet).
4. Fanboi newsgroups (one point per kook, not one point per group)
5. Attempts at real-life contact (e.g. posting phone numbers)
6. Fake awards, revenge nominations etc. (one point per kook)
7. Mentions in a newsgroup FAQ (e.g. soc.men).
8. Being the target of a Kooksuit (one point per kook).

The first mate was found to be drunk one day and that day it happened to be the captain's turn to write in the ship's log so he wrote:
The first mate was drunk today.
He begged and pleaded to the captain to remove that entry but the captain argued that once an entry was made in the company's log it couldn't be deleted. The first mate decided to get even.
The next time when it was the first mate's turn to write in the log, he wrote:
The captain was sober today.

The first mate was found to be drunk one day and that day it happened to be the captain's turn to write in the ship's log so he wrote:
The first mate was drunk today.
He begged and pleaded to the captain to remove that entry but the captain argued that once an entry was made in the company's log it couldn't be deleted. The first mate decided to get even.
The next time when it was the first mate's turn to write in the log, he wrote:
The captain was sober today.

Mark had made a lame claim that after his impeachment from CCRAA that he had been approached by other Hams to start his own Ham club.
Come on, Mark. Follow up on this lie.

You can't.

Why?

Because this fantasy of yours is yet another of your wild tales that nobody believes.

Of course you could always initiate a local chapter of the LAMBDA club...but you'd be the only member in the Upper Peninsula.
Oh, wait. I forgot about Gav. That makes two.

2384. Little Red Hen

Once upon a time, on a farm in Virginia, there was a little red hen who Scratched about the barnyard until she uncovered quite a few grains of Wheat.

She called all of her Democrat neighbors together and said, "If we plant This wheat, we shall have bread to eat. Who will help me plant it?"

"Not I," said the cow.

"Not I," said the duck.

"Not I," said the pig.

"Not I," said the goose.

"Then I will do it by myself," said the little red hen, and so she did. The wheat grew very tall and ripened into golden grain.

"Who will help me reap my wheat?" asked the little red hen.

"Not I," said the duck.

"Out of my classification," said the pig.

"I'd lose my seniority," said the cow.

"I'd lose my unemployment compensation," said the goose.

"Then I will do it by myself," said the little red hen, and so she did.

At last it came time to bake the bread.

"Who will help me bake the bread?" asked the little red hen.

"That would be overtime for me," said the cow.

"I'd lose my welfare benefits," said the duck.

"I'm a dropout and never learned how," said the pig.

"If I'm to be the only helper, that's discrimination," said the goose.

"Then I will do it by myself," said the little red hen.

She baked five loaves and held them up for all of her neighbors to see. They wanted some and, in fact, demanded a share. But the little red hen Said, "No, I shall eat all five loaves."

"Excess profits!" cried the cow. (Nancy Pelosi)

"Capitalist leech!" screamed the duck. (Barbara Boxer)

"I demand equal rights!" yelled the goose. (Jesse Jackson)

The pig just grunted in disdain. (Ted Kennedy)

And they all painted "Unfair!" picket signs and marched around and Around the little red hen, shouting obscenities.

Then a government agent came. He said to the little red hen, "You must Not be so greedy."

"But I earned the bread," said the little red hen.

"Exactly," said the agent. "That is what makes our free enterprise System so wonderful. Anyone in the barnyard can earn as much as he Wants.
But under our modern government regulations, the productive Workers must divide the fruits of their labor with those who are lazy And idle."

And they all lived happily ever after, including the little red hen, who Smiled and clucked, "I am grateful, for now I truly understand."

But her neighbors became quite disappointed in her. She never again Baked bread because she joined the "party" and got her bread free. And All the Democrats smiled. Fairness had been established. Individual Initiative had died, but nobody noticed; perhaps no one cared...so long As there was free bread that "the rich" were paying for.

Bill Clinton got$12 million for his memoirs. Hillary got $8 million for hers. That's $20 million for the memories From two people, who for eight years, repeatedly testified, under oath, That they couldn't remember anything.

IS THIS A GREAT BARNYARD OR WHAT?

I would like to nominate Lil/Cue (who is allegedly Robert "Magnus Pym" Griffin, but that is unsubstantiated) for the Pickett, due to his "sterling" work in arguing that everyone else in ASH and ASD (those who disagree with him, at least, including yours truly) is a "piece of shit support group troll", while persisting in x-poasting from said support groups into AUK, despite being repeatedly clouted about the head with multiple cluesticks/bats/hammers and told "No," for the purpose of getting his flamewar opponents kook award nominations (going so far as to inform one Illyria that she has a nom, when she does not). He has thus sacrificed all reputation in pursuit of an unwinnable argument, so do I have a second?

He, however, is not making an unlikely claim about himself, whereas you are claiming he's lying, based on, well, nothing much, except that he's a Republican. He's an out bisexual Republican, however, which means he's a highly unusual specimen of Rethug -- one with some integrity.

..."Grammer"? Kelsey Grammer? What does he have to do with anything?
Anyway, you've just proven your spelling/typing/proofreading skills are as good as <konstaan>, so you could indeed be him.

How should he know for sure if you're one particular fanboi, rather than one of a bunch of other fanbois? Most of the possibilities allegedly no longer post to usenet. If it's true that they're gone (unprovable), then either you're one of the remainder, or some n00b who wandered in late, and has made a serious mistake in choosing sides against Mark. I'm a firm leftist, up here in Canada; despise Bush, detest McCain, and loathe Sarah Palin the Dominionist who would be President -- but you and the others lame Mark for being bi, dyslexic, and anti-code, none of which are strong motivations for a decade of (on-and-off) laming. As time goes on, and I gather more datapoints about the MMFC, they'll go on Kookpedia, and pile up, and up, and up. You will no doubt call it "stalking", and completely miss the inherent irony in complaining about something you endorse when the fan club does it (you joined the club of your own free will, so don't cry to me that you didn't realise that, by putting on that Klansmen hood, you stand for everything the fan club does, because you're anonymous, just like all the other members of the club -- that's the meaning of being in a club).

I identify as bi. I have only had straight sex. Am I straight or bi? Clearly, I can't be "gay". Do you know for certain that Mark has had gay sex? Not that it means anything to me, but your logic, as Sting said, ties me up and rapes me.

He's being frogged/forged and lamed because he's bi, dyslexic, and anti-code, yes. Not one of those things is a reason to forge, or hurl lame insults which only harm small children and the reputations of ham radio operators everywhere. If the fanbois were to just lay off Mark on the basis of his sexuality, his dyslexia, and ancient history which you have as much chance of changing as you do of avoiding theocracy if you get a Palin presidency (i.e. no chance at all, so get over yourselves and forget about getting those Morse code reqs back -- they're gone), the noise would subside, and I, incidentally, would quit paying attention to you entirely.

It's true! Awl gawd's chilluns got sexual hangups which affect nigh-unto-everything, and we're all on the death trip.

Meyer, a lonely widower, was walking home along Delancy Street one day wishing something wonderful would happen in his life, when he passed a pet store and heard a squawking voice shouting out in Yiddish, "Quawwwwk...vus machts du?" (How're ya doin') "Yeah, du." (Yeah, you.)

Meyer rubbed his eyes and ears. Couldn't believe it. Perfect Yiddish. The proprietor urged him, "Come in here, fella, and check out this parrot..." Meyer did. An African Grey cocked his little head and said: "Vus? Kenst sprechen Yiddish?" (What? Can you speak Yiddish?) In a matter of moments, Meyer had placed five hundred dollars on the counter and carried the parrot in his cage away with him.

All night he talked with the parrot. In Yiddish. He told the parrot about his father's adventures coming to America. About how beautiful his late wife, Sarah, was when she was a young bride. About his family, about his years of working in the garment district. About Florida. The parrot listened and commented. They shared some walnuts. The parrot told him of living in the pet store, how lonely he would get on the weekends.

They both went to sleep. Next morning, Meyer began to put on his Tfillin (Jewish prayer apparatus), all the while saying his prayers. The parrot demanded to know what he was doing and when Meyer explained, the parrot wanted to do the same. Meyer went out and had a miniature set of tfillin hand made for the parrot. The parrot wanted to learn to daven (pray), and learned every prayer. He even wanted to learn to read Hebrew.

So Meyer spent weeks and months, sitting and teaching the parrot, teaching him Torah. In time, Meyer came to love and count on the parrot as a friend and fellow Jew. One morning, on Rosh Hashanah, Meyer rose and got dressed and was about to leave when the parrot demanded to go with him. Meyer explained that Shul (Synagogue) was not a place for a bird, but the parrot made a terrific argument, so Meyer relented and carried the bird to Shul on his shoulder.

Needless to say, they made quite a spectacle, and Meyer was questioned by everyone, including the Rabbi and the Cantor. They refused to allow a bird into the building on the High Holy Days, but Meyer persuaded them to let him in this one time, swearing that the parrot could daven (Pray).

Wagers were made with Meyer. Thousands of dollars were bet that the parrot could NOT daven, could not speak Yiddish or Hebrew, etc.

All eyes were on the African Grey during services. The parrot perched on Meyer's shoulder as one prayer and song passed - Meyer heard not a peep from the bird. He began to become annoyed, slapping at his shoulder and mumbling under his breath, "Daven!" Nothing. "Daven...parrot, you can daven, so daven...come on, everyone is looking at you!"

Nothing.

After Rosh Hashanah services were concluded, Meyer found that he owed his Shul buddies and the Rabbi over four thousand dollars..

He marched home, so upset he said nothing to the parrot. Finally several blocks from the Temple the Parrot began to sing an old Yiddish song, as happy as a lark. Meyer stopped and looked at him.

"Why? After I had tfillin made for you and taught you the morning prayers, and taught you to read Hebrew and the Torah. And after you begged me to bring you to Shul on Rosh Hashana, why? WHY?!? Why did you do this to me?"

"Meyer, don't be a schmuck," the parrot replied. "Think of the odds we'll get on Yom Kippur!"

Mark goes away for a few days, yet you still continue to attack him. He owns chickens, so your joke about a chicken is a backhanded swipe at his lifestyle.

And why do you attack Mark's lifestyle? Simple: You're jealous of his sexuality.

See? There you go bringing up Mark's sexuality again. You just can't help yourself, can you? I ought to "zzzz ..." out this thread.

Hi everyone!

Anyone know of a nice club or hangout in the Toledo area that caters to cross dressing radio operators? I'm a guy from Toledo who enjoys showing a submissive man a good time in every way. I have so many interests that there probably is some broad common ground between myself and about anyone. I love to talk about BDSM issues and interests, and have been generally regarded as a funny guy to hang out with who has a good head on his shoulders. Send me a message for anything else you'd like to know!
I've attatched a link to my picture below, I consider myself a BBW trapped in a mans body and will be dominant to the right gentleman. (ham radio operators move to the front of the line)

I think it's what's known as a "reciprocal arrangement".

This idea sounds just crazy enough to possibly work, so naturally it won't be given serious consideration. How great is our bureaucracy!!

Hi to All,

I'm against the $85,000,000,000.00 bailout of AIG.

Instead, I'm in favor of giving $85,000,000,000 to America in a "We Deserve It Dividend".

To make the math simple, let's assume there are 200,000,000 bonafide U.S. Citizens 18+.

Our population is about 301,000,000 +/- counting every man, woman and child. So 200,000,000 might be a fair stab at adults 18 and up..

So divide 200 million adults 18+ into $85 billion that equals $425,000.00.

My plan is to give $425,000 to every person 18+ as a "We Deserve It Dividend".

Of course, it would NOT be tax free.

So let's assume a tax rate of 30%.

Every individual 18+ has to pay $127,500.00 in taxes.

That sends $25,500,000,000 right back to Uncle Sam.

But it means that every adult 18+ has $297,500.00 in their pocket.

A husband and wife has $595,000.00.

What would you do with $297,500.00 to $595,000.00 in your family?

Pay off your mortgage - housing crisis solved.

Repay college loans - what a great boost to new grads

Put away money for college - it'll be there

Save in a bank - create money to loan to entrepreneurs.

Buy a new car - create jobs

Invest in the market - capital drives growth

Pay for your parent's medical insurance - health care improves

Enable Deadbeat Dads to come clean - or else

Remember this is for every adult US Citizen 18+ including the folks who lost their jobs at Lehman Brothers and every other company that is cutting back. And of course, for those serving in our Armed Forces.

If we're going to re-distribute wealth let's really do it...instead of trickling out a puny $1000.00 ('vote buy') economic incentive that is being proposed by one of our candidates for President.

If we're going to do an $85 billion bailout, let's bail out every adult U S Citizen 18+!

As for AIG - liquidate it.

Sell off its parts.

Let American General go back to being American General.

Sell off the real estate.

Let the private sector bargain hunters cut it up and clean it up.

Here's my rationale. We deserve it and AIG doesn't.

Sure it's a crazy idea that can 'never work.'

But can you imagine the Coast-To-Coast Block Party!

How do you spell Economic Boom?

I trust my fellow adult Americans to know how to use the $85 Billion

We deserve it more than the geniuses at AIG or in Washington DC do.
And remember, The Birk plan only really costs $59.5 Billion because $25.5 Billion is returned instantly in taxes to Uncle Sam.

Ahhh...I feel so much better getting that off my chest.

Kindest personal regards,

Birk

W00T! Also, "Some Guy" nominated Gunner, who I'll second. Now, that's a politically unbalanced race, but I think it's a fair representation of the sampling of politically motivated kooks on USENET these days.

"Lord Clump" is the sockpuppet of someone I disenfranchised until the

However, I haven't used my second for the PAP, and I find Karen to be

I strongly doubt that. I think it's far more likely that it's Robert Griffin's adversary Michael Patrick Sullivan AKA The Kearsley Curse, who has far more motive to stalk AUK and ASH and who has posted whiny rants to ASH about the "cruel AUKers picking on the vulnerable mentally ill." Projection is such a useful, but obvious, defense mechanism.

Muahahahahaha! I'll second, but then I'll horribly abuse my FNVW privilege to nominate all those who managed to blow themselves up in my presence this past month who haven't already qualified for the Palmjob Paddle.

First, I nominate David "Yads" Yadallee AKA The Doctor, for twice screwing up his revenge nominations.

Another month of Bucky foaming will have to do. Honestly, though, I think Archie Leach has him more trained. Archie is a recognized kookologist who doesn't have this award (unless you count him as part of the Hater Goon Cabal), while Snuhwolf is an independent troll. Indeed, but I feel Bucky is more deserving of my nom there. Lots of

"When I told Abbie Hoffman that he was the first one who made me laugh since Lenny Bruce died, Hoffman said, "Really? He was my god." The combination of satirical irreverence and sense of justice that Bruce and Hoffman shared was the real spirit behind the Yippies--a term I coined to describe a phenomenon that already existed: an organic coalition of stoned hippies and political activists who engaged in such actions as throwing money on the floor of the New York Stock Exchange, then explaining to reporters the meaning of that symbolism. Folksinger Phil Ochs summed it up: "A demonstration should turn you on, not turn you off." So when journalists link the Yippies with misleading bedfellows, at best it's careless shorthand; at worst it's deliberate demonization. Osama bin Laden wanted an aircraft to crash into the Pentagon. Abbie Hoffman merely wanted to levitate it." -- Paul Krassner, http://tinyurl.com/ehu3v

This comes from 2 math teachers with a combined total of 70 yrs. experience.

Here is a little something someone sent me that is indisputable mathematical logic. It also made me Laugh Out Loud.

This is a strictly mathematical viewpoint...it goes like this:

What Makes 100%? What does it mean to give MORE than 100%? Ever wonder about those people who say they are giving more than 100%? We have all been to those meetings where someone wants you to give over 100%. How about achieving 103%? What makes up 100% in life?

Here's a little mathematical formula that might help you answer these questions:

If:
A B C D E F G H I J K L M N O P Q R S T U V W X Y Z

is represented as:
1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 25 26.

Then:

H-A-R-D-W-O-R-K
8+1+18+4+23+15+18+11 = 98%

K-N-O-W-L-E-D-G-E
11+14+15+23+12+5+4+7+5 = 96%

A-T-T-I-T-U-D-E
1+20+20+9+20+21+4+5 = 100%

And,

B-U-L-L-S-H-I-T
2+21+12+12+19+8+9+20 = 103%

AND, look how far ass kissing will take you.

A-S-S-K-I-S-S-I-N-G
1+19+19+11+9+19+19+9+14+7 = 118%

So, one can conclude with mathematical certainty, that While Hard work and Knowledge will get you close, and Attitude will get you there, its the Bullshit and Ass kissing that will put you over the top.

TO ALL MY FRIENDS.... LIBERAL OR CONSERVATIVE... FYI only.

George Bush has been in office for 7 1/2 years. The first six the economy was fine.
A little over one year ago:
1) Consumer confidence stood at a 2 1/2 year high;
2) Regular gasoline sold for $2.19 a gallon;
3) the unemployment rate was 4.5%.
4) the DOW JONES hit a record high--14,000 +
5) American's were buying new cars,taking cruises, vacations overseas, living large!...

But American's wanted 'CHANGE'! So, in 2006 they voted in a Democratic Congress and yes-- we got 'CHANGE' all right.

In the PAST YEAR:
1) Consumer confidence has plummeted ;
2) Gasoline is now over $3 a gallon & climbing!;
3) Unemployment is up to 6.1% (a 10% increase);
4) Americans have seen their home equity drop by $12 TRILLION DOLLARS
and prices still dropping;
5) 1% of American homes are in foreclosure.
6) as I write, THE DOW is probing another low~~ $2.5 TRILLION
DOLLARS
HAS EVAPORATED FROM THEIR STOCKS, BONDS & MUTUAL FUNDS INVESTMENT PORTFOLIOS!

YES, IN 2006 AMERICA VOTED FOR CHANGE... AND WE SURE GOT IT! ....

REMEMBER "THE PRESIDENT HAS NO CONTROL OVER ANY OF THESE ISSUES", ONLY CONGRESS DOES.

AND WHAT HAS CONGRESS DONE IN THE LAST TWO YEARS, ABSOLUTELY NOTHING.

NOW THE DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE FOR PRESIDENT CLAIMS HE IS GOING TO REALLY GIVE US CHANGE ALONG WITH A DEMOCRATIC CONGRESS!!!!

JUST HOW MUCH MORE 'CHANGE' DO YOU THINK YOU CAN STAND?

Apparently it is now being made available. I have not read the thesis, only the synopsis on snopes. It is interesting..

According to Snopes.com, Princeton was requested to put a 'restriction' on distribution of any copies of the thesis of Michelle Obama (a/k/a/ Michelle laVaughn Robinson) saying it could not be made available until November 5, 2008 but when it was published on a political website they decided they would lift the restriction.

http://www.snopes.com/politics/Obama/thesis.asp

Subj: Thesis - Michele Obama aka Michelle LaVaughn Robinson
OBAMA'S MILITANT RACISM REVEALED

In her senior thesis at Princeton, Michele Obama, the wife of Barack Obama stated that America was a nation founded on 'crime and hatred'.

Moreover, she stated that whites in America were 'ineradicably racist'.
The 1985 thesis, titled 'Princeton-Educated Blacks and the Black Community' was written under her maiden name, Michelle LaVaughn Robinson.

Michelle Obama stated in her thesis that to 'Whites at Princeton , it often seems as if, to them, she will always be Black first...' However, it was reported by a fellow black classmate, 'If those 'Whites at Princeton ' really saw Michelle as one who always would 'be Black first,' it seems that she gave them that impression'.

Most alarming is Michele Obama's use of the terms 'separationist' and 'integrationist' when describing the views of black people.

Mrs. Obama clearly identifies herself with a 'separationist' view of race.

'By actually working with the Black lower class or within their communities as

Obama writes that the path she chose by attending Princeton would likely lead to her 'further integration and/or assimilation into a white cultural and social structure that will only allow me to remain on the periphery of society; never becoming a full participant.'

Michele Obama clearly has a chip on her shoulder. Not only does she see separate black and white societies in America, but she elevates black over white in her world.

Here is another passage that is uncomfortable and ominous in meaning:

'There was no doubt in my mind that as a member of the black community, I am obligated to this community and will utilize all of my present and future resources to benefit the black community first and foremost.'

What is Michelle Obama planning to do with her future resources if she's firstlady that will elevate black over white in America?

The following passage appears to be a call to arms for affirmative action policies that could be the hallmark of an Obama administration.

'Predominately white universities like Princeton are socially and academically designed to cater to the needs of the white students comprising the bulk of their enrollments.'

The conclusion of her thesis is alarming.

Michelle Obama's poll of black alumni concludes that other black students at Princeton do not share her obsession with blackness.
But rather than celebrate, she is horrified that black alumni identify with our common American culture more than they value the color of their skin.
'I hoped that these findings would help me conclude that despite the high degree of

Only 89 students responded out of 400 who were asked for input.

Michelle Obama does not look into a crowd of Obama supporters and see Americans. She sees black people and white people eternally conflicted with one another.

The thesis provides a trove of Mrs. Obama's thoughts and world view seen through a race-based prism. This is a very divisive view for a potential first lady that would do untold damage to race relations in this country in a Barack Obama administration.

Michelle Obama's intellectually refined racism should give all Americans pause for deep concern.

Now maybe she's changed, but she sure sounds like someone with an axe to grind with America. Will the press let Michelle get a free pass over her obviously racist comment about American whites? I am sure that it will.

PS: We paid for her scholarship

A lonely blonde decides to do something really wild. Something she hasn't done before, so she goes out to rent her first X-rated adult video.

She goes to the video store, and after looking around for a while, selects a title that sounds very stimulating.

She drives home, lights some candles, slips into something comfortable, and puts the tape in the VCR.

To her disappointment, there's nothing but static on the screen, so she calls the video store to complain.

"I just rented an adult movie from you and there's nothing on the tape but static," she says.

"Sorry about that. We've had problems with some of those tapes. Which title did you rent?" the clerk replies.

"Head Cleaner", she replies.

The good news is, we only need to keep our sense of humor up for a few more weeks. Then the real fun starts!

A Japanese doctor says, 'Medicine in my country is so advanced that we can take a kidney out of one man, put it in another, and have him out looking for work in 6 weeks.'

A German doctor says, 'That is nothing. We can take a lung out of one person, put it in another, and have him out looking for work in four weeks.'

A British doctor says, 'In my country, medicine is so advanced that we can take half a heart out of one person, put it in another and have both of them out looking for work in two weeks.'

The American doctor, not to be outdone, interjected, 'You guys are way behind. We are about to take a Muslim with no brains, put him in the White House, and then half the country will be out looking for work in one week.

A rabbit one day managed to break free from the laboratory where he had been born and brought up. As he scurried away from the fencing of the compound, he felt grass under his little feet and saw the dawn breaking for the first time in his life.

"Wow, this is great," he thought. It wasn't long before he came to a hedge and, after squeezing under it he saw a wonderful sight: lots of other bunny rabbits, all free, having fun and nibbling at the lush grass.

Hey," he called. "I'm a rabbit from the laboratory and I've just escaped. Are you wild rabbits?"

"Yes. Come and join us," they cried. Our friend hopped over to them and started eating the grass. It tasted so good, unlike his tasteless food he grew up with. "What else do you wild rabbits do?" he asked.

"Well," one of them said. "You see that field there? It's got carrots growing in it. We dig them up and eat them." This he couldn't resist and he spent the next hour eating the most succulent carrots. They were wonderful. Later, he asked them again, "What else do you do?"

"You see that field there? It's got lettuce growing in it. We eat them as well." The lettuce tasted just as good and he returned a while later completely full. "Is there anything else you guys do?" he asked.

One of the other rabbits came a bit closer to him and spoke softly. "There's one other thing you must try. You see those rabbits there," he said, pointing to the far corner of the field. "They're girls. We shag them. Go and try it."

Well, our friend spent the rest of the morning screwing his little heart out until, completely knackered, he staggered back over to the guys. "That was fantastic," he panted.

"So are you going to live with us then?" one of them asked. "I'm sorry, I had a great time but I can't."

The wild rabbits all stared at him, a bit surprised. "Why? We thought you liked it here."

"I do," our friend replied. "But I must get back to the laboratory. I'm dying for a cigarette."

Six retired Floridians were playing poker in the condo clubhouse when Meyerwitz loses $500 on a single hand, clutches his chest, and drops dead at the table.

Showing respect for their fallen comrade, the other five continue playing standing up.

Finklestien looks around and asks, "So, who's gonna tell his wife?"

They cut the cards. Goldberg picks the two of clubs a nd has to deliver the news.

They tell him to be discreet, be gentle, don't make a bad situation worse.

"Discreet? I'm the most discreet person you'll ever meet. Discretion is my middle name. Leave it to me."

Goldberg goes over to the Meyerwitz apartment and knocks on the door. The wife opens the door and asks what he wants.

Goldberg declares: "Your husband just lost $500 in a poker game and is afraid to come home."

"Tell him to drop dead!" screams the wife.

"I'll go tell him." says Goldberg.

I think your fans are mainly bois -- I don't get much of a "gurl" vibe

May your hair, your teeth, your face-lift, your abs, and your stocks not fall.

And may your blood pressure, your triglycerides, your cholesterol, your white blood count and your mortgage interest not rise.

May you get a clean bill of health from your dentist, your cardiologist, your gastroenterologist, your urologist, your proctologist, your podiatrist, your psychiatrist, your plumber, and the Internal Revenue Service.

May you find a way to travel from anywhere to anywhere during rush hour in less than an hour, and when you get there may you find a parking space.

May this Yom Tov, find you seated around the dinner table, together with your beloved family and cherished friends, ushering in the Jewish New Year ahead.

May what you see in the mirror delight you, and what others see in you delight them.

May the telemarketers wait to make their sales calls until you finish dinner, may your checkbook and your budget balance, and may they include generous amounts for charity.

May you remember to say "I love you" at least once a day to your partner, your child, and your parent.

You can say it to your secretary, your nurse, your butcher, your photographer, your masseuse, your seamstress, your hairdresser or your gym instructor, but not with a "twinkle" in your eye.

May we live as intended, in a world at peace with the awareness of the beauty in every sunset, every flower's unfolding petals, every baby's smile and every wonderful, astonishing, miraculous part of ourselves.

Bless you with every happiness, great health, peace and much love during the next year and all those that follow.

Sometime between Rosh Hashanah (Jewish New Year) and Yom Kippur, (Day of Atonement) it is customary to throw bread crumbs into a body of water as a symbolic act of repentance, called Tashlich.

Most Jews do Tashlich the afternoon of the first day of Rosh Hashanah. Family and friends gather together at the waterfront of a body of water to cast away' the sins of the past year and resolve to be a better person in the year to come.

Occasionally, people ask what kinds of breadcrumbs should, (or might) be thrown. Here are suggestions for breads which may be most appropriate for specific sins and misbehaviors...

For ordinary sins - Whitebread
For erotic sins - Frenchbread
For particularly dark sins - Pumpernickel
For complex sins - Multi-Grain
For sins of indecision - Waffles
For sins committed in haste - Matzos
For sins of chutzpah - Any fresh bread
For substance abuse - Stoned wheat
For committing auto theft - Caraway
For timidity/cowardice - Milk toast
For ill-temperedness - Sourdough
For silliness, eccentricity - Nut bread
For excessive irony - Ryebread
For taking unnecessary chances - 'Hero' bread
For war-mongering - Kaiser rolls
For dressing immodestly - Tarts
For lechery and promiscuity - Hot buns
For promiscuity with Gentiles - Hot cross buns
For racist attitudes - Crackers
For being holier-than-thou' - Bagels
For overeating - Stuffing
For indecent photography - Cheesecake
For raising your voice too often - Challah
For pride and egotism - Puff pastry
For sycophancy, ass-kissing - Brownies
For being overly smothering - Angel food cake
For trashing the environment - Dumplings

Whichever crumbs you choose to throw into the water, may all your sins be washed away and may you have a wholesome NEW YEAR!!

Doug is someone who has fathered children and does nothing to support them or have any involvement with them. He is one of the reasons we all pay higher taxes for social welfare progams and why some people will rob, rape or murder you because they had a father like Douglas.

He is a wart on humanity.

2519. Dog Food

Newsgroup: rec.radio.amateur.policy

Go ahead - ask a retired person a dumb question and see what kind of an answer you get!

Yesterday I was at PetsMart buying a large bag of Purina dog chow for my loyal pet Coon the Wonder Dog and was in the checkout line when the woman behind me asked if I had a dog. What did she think I had, an elephant?

So since I'm retired and have little to do, on impulse I told her,
"No, I don't have a dog. I am starting the Purina Diet again."

I added that I probably shouldn't, because I ended up in the hospital last time, but that I'd lost 50 pounds before I awakened in an intensive care
ward with tubes coming out of most of my orifices and IVs in both arms. I told her that it was essentially a perfect diet, and that the way it works is to load your pockets with Purina nuggets.
Then you simply eat one or two every time you feel hungry.
The food is nutritionally complete so it works well, and I was going to try it again. (I have to mention here that practically everyone in line was now enthralled with my story.)

Horrified, she asked if I ended up in intensive care because the dog food poisoned me. I told her no, that I stepped off a curb to sniff an Irish
Setter's butt and a car hit us both.

I thought the guy behind her was going to have a heart attack he was laughing so hard.

Better watch what you ask retired people. They have all the time in the world to think of crazy things to say!

Amanpreet was at the county fair when he happened upon a fortune teller's tent. Thinking,
"What the heck, it'll be good for a laugh or two," he dashed inside and sat down.
The fortune teller took his money, lowered the lights, and gazed into her crystal ball.
"Ahhh," she said, "I see you are the father of two children!"
"Ha!" Lizard Pecker said, "That's what you think. I'm the father of THREE children."
The woman grinned and said, "That's what YOU think."

New Wine for Seniors

California vintners in the Napa Valley area, which primarily produce Pinot Blanc, Pinot Noir and Pinot Grigio wines, have developed a new hybrid grape that acts as an anti-diuretic.
It is expected to reduce the number of trips older people have to make to the bathroom during the night.

The new wine will be marketed as

PINO MORE

I HEARD IT THROUGH THE GRAPEVINE

"Consider that language a moment. 'Purposefully and materially supported hostilities against the United States' is in the eye of the beholder, and this administration has proven itself to be astonishingly impatient with criticism of any kind. The broad powers given to Bush by this legislation allow him to capture, indefinitely detain, and refuse a hearing to any American citizen who speaks out against Iraq or any other part of the so-called 'War on Terror.'

"If you write a letter to the editor attacking Bush, you could be deemed as purposefully and materially supporting hostilities against the United States. If you organize or join a public demonstration against Iraq, or against the administration, the same designation could befall you. One dark-comedy aspect of the legislation is that senators or House members who publicly disagree with Bush, criticize him, or organize investigations into his dealings could be placed under the same designation. In effect, Congress just gave Bush the power to lock them up." -- William Rivers Pitt

"It has become clear in recent months that a critical mass of the American people have seen through the lies of the Bush administration; with the president's polls at an historic low, growing resistance to the war Iraq, and the Democrats likely to take back the Congress in mid-term elections, the Bush administration is on the ropes. And so it is particularly worrying that President Bush has seen fit, at this juncture to, in effect, declare himself dictator." -- Frank Morales it holds even into the quantum but there observational confirmation is limited or non existent. That's the problem and the major stumbling block to field unification. For Dr. Einstein held out that a physical based field theory should be sought out and not left to quantum uncertainty of how the universe primly base works. Man made coordinate systems are fine without knowing from where or what is the base essence of what the space as deduced field is composed of, but not totally satisfactory. Anomalies keep space cropping up and scientists have to keep adjusting for these unexpected events. It's like a blind man that has memorized his physical surroundings to a point he feels very comfortable until that one new or unexpected event pops up and he's lost and fumbling." -- nightbat, in one of his more lucid moments.

There was a little old lady standing on the corner,
both hands holding her hat on while the wind blew her skirt up around her face.
A dignified Southern Gentleman came up and said,
"Ma'am, you should be ashamed of yourself, letting your skirt blow around, being indecent, while both hands hold your hat."
She said, "Look, everything down there is eighty years old, this hat is brand new!"

Such masterful training by Mr. Beauregard should not go unrecognised.
I, Snarky, do hereby nominate Roger "Woger" Wiseman for the Barbara Woodhouse Memorial "Dog Whistle", as trained by the aforementioned LJB.

http://www.screedbomb.info/coosn/
Q: Who is eligible for a COOSN?

A: Kookologists with 10 or more verifiable UV points may exchange these points for a Cabal Obsidian Order Sombrero Number.

Q: Who is not eligible for a COOSN?

A: Certified net.kooks; notorious net.cretins; terminally clueless fuckwits; previous winners of kook-awards, unless an official pardon has been granted by the FNVW.

Q: How do I apply for a COOSN?

A: Make a Usenet post to alt.usenet.kooks (crossposting to your favourite newsgroups is acceptable); to ensure that the FNVW actually sees your request, try to use either of the following formats for the subject line:

[COOSN Application] Your name (or best known handle) here
[COOSN Request] Your name (or best known handle) here

Please provide a list of 10 UV points - along with verifiable evidence for each point wherever possible.

Q: Can one Kookologist nominate another Kookologist for a COOSN?

A: Yes, but the proposer should supply a verifiable list of 10 UV points for the nominee at the time of the nomination. Also, the nominee must accept the nomination before a COOSN is issued.

Q: What happens if my Sombrero Number application is refused by the FNVW?

A: The Office of Darth Bawl is always looking for new candidates. Nuff said.

Q: What are "UV points"?
1. Threats of violence, especially death. (one point per kook)
2. Lists, i.e. real lists, not just mentions of two or three names in the same post. One list per kook, unless the lists are clearly meant to serve different purposes.
3. Fanboi sites (one point per kook, not one point per site. Minimum qualification is a whole page about you; pages containing lists don't score extra if the list also appears on Usenet).
4. Fanboi newsgroups (one point per kook, not one point per group)
5. Attempts at real-life contact (e.g. posting phone numbers)
6. Fake awards, revenge nominations etc. (one point per kook)
7. Mentions in a newsgroup FAQ (e.g. soc.men).
8. Being the target of a Kooksuit (one point per kook).

RIGHT ON LEE!!!!!!! THIS MAN IS SPEAKING FOR ALL OF US! GOD BLESS HIM.

Lee Iacocca Speaks Out, Can You Listen
The two party system????

Remember Lee Iacocca, the VP at Ford credited with the birth of the Mustang, the man who rescued Chrysler Corporation from their death throes, and the owner of the famous quote 'Lead, follow, or get out of the way'? He has a new book, and here are some excerpts.

Lee Iacocca writes:

'Am I the only guy in this country who's fed up with what's happening? Where the hell is our outrage? We should be screaming bloody murder. We've got a gang of clueless bozos steering our ship of state right over a cliff, we've got corporate gangsters stealing us blind, and we can't even clean up after a hurricane much less build a hybrid car. But instead of getting mad, everyone sits around and nods their heads when the politicians say, 'Stay the course'

Stay the course? You've got to be kidding. This is America, not the damned 'Titanic' I'll give you a sound bite: 'Throw all the bums out!'

You might think I'm getting senile, that I've gone off my rocker, and maybe I have. But someone has to speak up. I hardly recognize this country anymore.

The most famous business leaders are not the innovators but the guys in handcuffs. While we're fiddling in Iraq, the Middle East is burning and nobody seems to know what to do. And the press is waving 'pom-poms' instead of asking hard questions. That's not the promise of the 'America' my parents and yours traveled across the ocean for. I've had enough. How about you?

I'll go a step further. You can't call yourself a patriot if you're not outraged. This is a fight I'm ready and willing to have.

The Biggest 'C' is Crisis !

Leaders are made, not born. Leadership is forged in times of crisis. It's easy to sit there with your feet up on the desk and talk theory. Or send someone else's kids off to war when you've never seen a battlefield yourself. It's another thing to lead when your world comes tumbling down.

On September 11, 2001, we needed a strong leader more than any other time in our history We needed a steady hand to guide us out of the ashes. A Hell of a Mess. So here's where we stand. We're immersed in a bloody war with no plan for winning and no plan for leaving. We're running the biggest deficit in the history of the country. We're losing the manufacturing edge to Asia, while our once-great companies are getting slaughtered by health care costs. Gas prices are skyrocketing, and nobody in power has a coherent energy policy. Our schools are in trouble. Our borders are like sieves. The middle class is being s squeezed every which way. These are times that cry out for leadership.

But when you look around, you've got to ask: 'Where have all the leaders gone?' Where are the curious, creative communicators? Where are the people of character, courage, conviction, omnipotence, and common sense? I may be a sucker for alliteration, but I think you get the point.

Name me a leader who has a better idea for homeland security than making us take off our shoes in airports and throw away our shampoo? We've spent billions of dollars building a huge new bureaucracy, and all we know how to do is react to things that have already happened.

Name me one leader who emerged from the crisis of Hurricane Katrina. Congress has yet to spend a single day evaluating the response to the hurricane, or demanding accountability for the decisions that were made in the crucial hours after the storm. Everyone's hunkering down, fingers crossed, hoping it doesn't happen again. Now, that's just crazy. Storms happen. Deal with it. Make a plan. Figure out what you're going to do the next time.

Name me an industry leader who is thinking creatively about how we can restore our competitive edge in manufacturing. Who would have believed that there could ever be a time when 'The Big Three' referred to Japanese car companies? How did this happen, and more important, what are we going to do about it?

Name me a government leader who can articulate a plan for paying down the debt, or solving the energy crisis, or managing the health care problem. The silence is deafening. But these are the crises that are eating away at our country and milking the middle class dry.

I have news for the gang in Congress. We didn't elect you to sit on your asses and do nothing and remain silent while our democracy is being hijacked and our greatness is being replaced with mediocrity. What is everybody so afraid of? That some bonehead on Fox News will call them a name? Give me a break. Why don't you guys show some spine for a change?

Had Enough?

Hey, I'm not trying to be the voice of gloom and doom here. I'm trying to light a fire. I'm speaking out because I have hope; I believe in America. In my lifetime I've had the privilege of living through some of America's greatest moments I've also experienced some of our worst crises: the 'Great Depression', 'World War II', the 'Korean War', the 'Kennedy Assassination', the 'Vietnam War', the 1970s oil crisis, and the struggles of recent years culminating with 9/11. If I've learned one thing, it's this:

'You don't get anywhere by standing on the sidelines waiting for somebody else to take action. Whether it's building a better car or building a better future for our children, we all have a role to play. That's the challenge I'm raising in this book. It's a call to 'Action' for people who, like me, believe in America . It's not too late, but it's getting pretty close. So let's shake off the crap and go to work. Let's tell 'em all we've had 'enough.'

Make a 'real contribution' by sending this to everyone you know and care about..... our future is at stake!

Joe wanted to buy a motorbike. He doesn't have much luck until, one day, he comes across a Harley with a 'for sale' sign on it.

The bike seems even better than a new one, although it is 10 years old.

It is shiny and in absolute mint condition.

He immediately buys it, and asks the seller how he kept it in such great condition for 10 years.

'Well, it's quite simple, really,' says the seller, 'whenever the bike is outside and it's gonna rain, rub Vaseline on the chrome. It protects it from the rain.'

And he hands Joe a jar of Vaseline.

That night, his girlfriend, Sandra, invites him over to meet her parents. Naturally, they take the bike there.

But just before they enter the house,Sandra stops him and says, 'I have to tell you something about my family before we go in.'

'When we eat dinner, we don't talk. In fact, the first person who says anything during dinner has to do the dishes.'

'No problem,' he says. And in they go.

Joe is shocked. Right smack in the middle of the living room is a huge stack of dirty dishes.

In the kitchen is another huge stack of dishes. Piled up on the stairs, in the corridor,everywhere he looks, dirty dishes.

They sit down to dinner and, sure enough, no one says a word.

As dinner progresses, Joe decides to take advantage of the situation.

So he leans over and kisses Sandra.

No one says a word.

So he reaches over and fondles her breasts.

Still, nobody says a word.

So he stands up, grabs her, rips her clothes off, throws her on the table, and screws her right there, in front of her parents. His girlfriend is a little flustered, her dad is obviously livid, and her mom horrified when he sits back down, but no one says a word. He looks at her mom.

'She's got a great body,' he thinks. So he grabs the mom, bends her over the dinner table, and has his way with her every which way right there on the dinner table.

Now his girlfriend is furious and her dad is boiling, but still, total silence.

All of a sudden there is a loud clap of thunder, and it starts to rain.

Joe remembers his bike, so he pulls the jar of Vaseline from his pocket. Suddenly the father backs away from the table and shouts, 'Hey, no problem, I'll do the dishes!'

A young Jewish mother is preparing a brisket one Friday for Shabbat dinner. Her daughter watches with interest as the mother slices off both ends of the brisket before placing it in the roasting pan.

The young girl asks her mother why she did this. The mother pauses for a moment and then says, "You know, I am not sure..... this is the way I always saw my mother make a brisket. Let's call Grandma and ask her. "

So, she phones the grandmother and asks why they always slice the ends off the brisket before roasting. The grandmother thinks for a moment and then says, "You know, I am not sure why, this is the way I always saw MY mother make a brisket."

Now the two women are very curious, so they pay a visit to the great-grandmother in the nursing home. "You know when we make a brisket," they explain, "we always slice off the ends before roasting. Why is that?"

"I don't know why you do it" says the old woman, "but I never had a pan that was large enough!"

A couple was on their honeymoon, laying in bed, about ready to consummate their marriage, when the new bride says to the husband, "I have a confession to make, I'm not a virgin."
The husband replies, "That's no big thing in this day and age."
The wife continues, "Yeah, I've been with one other guy."
"Oh yeah? Who was the guy?"
"Tiger Woods."

"Tiger Woods the golfer?"
"Yeah."
"Well he's rich, famous and handsome. I can see why you went to bed with him."
The husband and wife then make passionate love. When they get done, the husband gets up and walks to the telephone.
"What are you doing?" says the wife.
The husband says, "I'm hungry. I was going to call room service and get some food."
"Tiger wouldn't do that."
"Oh yeah? What would Tiger do?"
"He'd come back to bed and do it a second time."
The husband puts down the phone and goes back to bed to make love with his wife a second time. When they finish, he gets up and goes over to the phone.
"What are you doing?" She says.
The husband says, "I'm still hungry so I was going to get room service to get some food."
"Tiger wouldn't do that."
"Oh yeah? What would Tiger do?"
"He'd come back to bed and do it one more time."
The guy slams down the phone and goes back to bed and makes love to his wife one more time. When they finish he's tired and beat. He drags himself over to the phone and starts to dial.
The wife asks, "Are you calling room service?"
"No! I'm calling Tiger Woods to find out what's par for this hole!"

Something Mark should try to work on:

The Radio Amateur is: CONSIDERATE…never knowingly operates in such a way as to lessen the pleasure of others.
LOYAL…offers loyalty, encouragement and support to other amateurs, local clubs, and the American Radio Relay League, through which Amateur Radio in the United States is represented nationally and internationally.
PROGRESSIVE…with knowledge abreast of science, a well-built and effi cient station
FRIENDLY…slow and patient operating when requested; friendly advice and counsel to the beginner; kindly assistance, cooperation and consideration for the interests of others. These are the hallmarks of the amateur spirit.
BALANCED…radio is an avocation, never interfering with duties owed to family, job, school or community.
PATRIOTIC…station and skill always ready for service to country and community.

—The original Amateur’s Code was written by Paul M. Segal, W9EEA, in 1928.

"But the other thing about her, she does know about international relations because she is right up there in Alaska right next door to Russia." -- Steve Doocy of FOX News was obviously a football player in his early adulthood.

Hey, Aggie! Does this sound familiar?

"Marcella proves once again that she's an ignorant racist bigot." -- OK, what race are Greeks, again? Aggie's so much more knowledgeable than I about that sort of thing. Message-ID:

"It could be several." -- Aggie answers marc_CH's question about which drugs Jamaican athletes such as Powell and Bolt have been taking.

"Only athletes on drugs win meddles. [...]

"And the funny thing is the Greek weightlifters were not winning meddles even while on drugs. Clearly every single weightlifter that beat a Greek weightlifter was taking more drugs than they were." -- Yeah, that's the ticket, Aggie! Message-ID: <c_2dnTTpk7xBa17VnZ2dnUVZ8tHinZ2d@eclipse.net.uk>

"Do Usenet posters on drugs not know how to spell 'medals'?" -- They really don't, marc_CH. Message-ID: <6iifvaFqlv6kU1@mid.individual.net>

"You cognatatively challenged fool!" -- According to Agamemnon, Stephen Wilson is, apparently, highly ignorant about cognates, and so is anyone who dares to disagree with him, in Message-ID: <Jvidnfyewe883sjVnZ2dnUVZ8rOdnZ2d@eclipse.net.uk>

Still looking for that special someone to share my life with.

See my profile at

http://www.datehookup.com/User-88840593.htm

Boys and girls of all races and ages are welcome.
I prefer hairless (if you know what I mean) pre adults to pose for my Hentai photos. All models must have a signed parental release except for after school between 3:00 and 4:30 pm. Monday through Friday and unil noon on Saturday.
I will provide all costumes and snack foods such as Twinkies and hot chocolate.
I get bulk discounts on my photos from Wal-Mart and will share my photos with others who are as sick as me.

LESBIANS ARE NOT WELCOME. That is Mark's domain.

Azure, meet Mark Morgan. Mark is an out bisexual, dyslexic, Jewish, Republican ham radio operator, who once participated in the "Morse code vs. no-code" debate (to the point of writing several letters) about 8-10 years ago. His side in that debate came out ahead, on balance, and the requirements for operators to know Morse code were greatly loosened.
Since then, he has acquired a fair-sized fan club of homophobes, anti-Semites, and spelling lamers, uniformly cowards hiding behind the nyms of their "enemies", especially Mark himself, sometimes using his callsign (KB9RQZ), or his Polish-American wife's name and/or callsign.
The most prominent member of the club is Roger "Woger Wankstain" Wiseman (who recently outed himself, possibly by accident), who particularly likes the nym "Marqueer", and he, like all fan club members, hates Mark with the burning passion of a million suns. The "ipunce" blogspot is one of their favourite k00kshite (one k00kshite, many k00kshite, it's all k00kshite), and any mention of it is usually an indication of the MMFC at its obsessive work. Repetition of "indeed" is also such an indication.

Mark and fan club, meet Azure. Azure is http://uncyclopedia.org/wiki/Bat_Fuck_Insane , but funnier than your fanbois, Mark.

I believe what comes around goes around and I know full well that it's just bad juju to wish such a level of turmoil and ill upon other humans, warmongering gay-hating maladroits or no, and that the real path of enlightenment is paved with forgiveness and progress and white-hot love and turning the other cheek and scotch.

"Consider that language a moment. 'Purposefully and materially supported hostilities against the United States' is in the eye of the beholder, and this administration has proven itself to be astonishingly impatient with criticism of any kind. The broad powers given to Bush by this legislation allow him to capture, indefinitely detain, and refuse a hearing to any American citizen who speaks out against Iraq or any other part of the so-called 'War on Terror.'

"If you write a letter to the editor attacking Bush, you could be deemed as purposefully and materially supporting hostilities against the United States. If you organize or join a public demonstration against Iraq, or against the administration, the same designation could befall you. One dark-comedy aspect of the legislation is that senators or House members who publicly disagree with Bush, criticize him, or organize investigations into his dealings could be placed under the same designation. In effect, Congress just gave Bush the power to lock them up." -- William Rivers Pitt

"When I told Abbie Hoffman that he was the first one who made me laugh since Lenny Bruce died, Hoffman said, "Really? He was my god." The combination of satirical irreverence and sense of justice that Bruce and Hoffman shared was the real spirit behind the Yippies--a term I coined to describe a phenomenon that already existed: an organic coalition of stoned hippies and political activists who engaged in such actions as throwing money on the floor of the New York Stock Exchange, then explaining to reporters the meaning of that symbolism. Folksinger Phil Ochs summed it up: "A demonstration should turn you on, not turn you off." So when journalists link the Yippies with misleading bedfellows, at best it's careless shorthand; at worst it's deliberate demonization. Osama bin Laden wanted an aircraft to crash into the Pentagon. Abbie Hoffman merely wanted to levitate it." -- Paul Krassner, http://tinyurl.com/ehu3v

If you were able to find out all this information by your self, so has the LIBERAL PRESS! And being the LIBERAL PRESS, they sure as hell aren't going to knock their candidate!

In addition, the liberal candidate wants to have all of these different programs, where is he gong to get the money to support them?
TAXES-TAXES-TAXES! Osama Obama, says that he is going to TAX "all those making over $250K"! There aren't that many in the USA making over $250K - so I guess he is gonna have to start TAXING the MIDDLE CLASS to run his programs!

In addition to what you found, I found the following:

Apparently it is now being made available. I have not read the thesis, only the synopsis on snopes. It is interesting..
According to Snopes.com, Princeton was requested to put a 'restriction' on distribution of any copies of the thesis of Michelle Obama (a/k/a/ Michelle laVaughn Robinson) saying it could not be made available until November 5, 2008 but when it was published on a political website they decided they would lift the restriction.

http://www.snopes.com/politics/obama/thesis.asp

Subj: Thesis - Michele Obama aka Michelle LaVaughn Robinson
OBAMA'S MILITANT RACISM REVEALED

In her senior thesis at Princeton, Michele Obama, the wife of Barack Obama stated that America was a nation founded on 'crime and hatred'.

The 1985 thesis, titled 'Princeton-Educated Blacks and the Black Community' was written under her maiden name, Michelle LaVaughn Robinson.

Michelle Obama stated in her thesis that to 'Whites at Princeton, it often seems as if, to them, she will always be Black first...' However, it was reported by a fellow black classmate, 'If those 'Whites at Princeton' really saw Michelle as one who always would 'be Black first,' it seems that she gave them that impression'.

Most alarming is Michele Obama's use of the terms 'separationist' and 'integrationist' when describing the views of black people.

Mrs. Obama clearly identifies herself with a 'separationist' view of race.

'By actually working with the Black lower class or within their communities as a result of their ideologies, a separationist may better understand the desperation of their situation and feel more hopeless about a resolution as opposed to an integrationist who is ignorant to their plight.'

Obama writes that the path she chose by attending Princeton would likely lead to her 'further integration and/or assimilation into a white cultural and social structure that will only allow me to remain on the periphery of society; never becoming a full participant.'

Michele Obama clearly has a chip on her shoulder. Not only does she see separate black and white societies in America, but she elevates black over white in her world.

Here is another passage that is uncomfortable and ominous in meaning:

'There was no doubt in my mind that as a member of the black community, I am obligated to this community and will utilize all of my present and future resources to benefit the black community first and foremost.'

What is Michelle Obama planning to do with her future resources if she's firstlady that will elevate black over white in America?

The following passage appears to be a call to arms for affirmative action policies that could be the hallmark of an Obama administration.

'Predominately white universities like Princeton are socially and academically designed to cater to the needs of the white students comprising the bulk of their enrollments.'

The conclusion of her thesis is alarming.

Michelle Obama's poll of black alumni concludes that other black students at Princeton do not share her obsession with blackness.
But rather than celebrate, she is horrified that black alumni identify with our common American culture more than they value the color of their skin.
'I hoped that these findings would help me conclude that despite the high degree of

Is it no wonder that most black alumni ignored her racist questionnaire?

Only 89 students responded out of 400 who were asked for input.

Michelle Obama does not look into a crowd of Obama supporters and see Americans. She sees black people and white people eternally conflicted with one another.

The thesis provides a trove of Mrs. Obama's thoughts and world view seen through a race-based prism. This is a very divisive view for a potential first lady that would do untold damage to race relations in this country in a Barack Obama administration.

Michelle Obama's intellectually refined racism should give all Americans pause for deep concern.

Now maybe she's changed, but she sure sounds like someone with an axe to grind with America. Will the press let Michelle get a free pass over her obviously racist comment about American whites? I am sure that it will.

PS: We paid for her scholarship?

To All My Friends, this is long, but very important.

Please take the time to read it.

This election has me very worried. So many things to consider. About a year ago I would have voted for Obama. I have changed my mind three times since than. I watch all the news channels, jumping from one to another. I must say this drives my husband crazy. But, I feel if you view MSNBC, CNN, and Fox News, you might get some middle ground to work with. About six months ago, I started thinking "where did the money come from for Obama". I have four daughters who went to College, and we were middle class, and money was tight. We (including my girls) worked hard and there were lots of student loans.

I started looking into Obama's life.

Around 1979 Obama started college at Occidental in California. He is very open about his two years at Occidental, he tried all kinds of drugs and was wasting his time but, even though he had a brilliant mind, did not apply himself to his studies. "Barry" (that was the name he used all his life) during this time had two roommates, Muhammad Hasan Chandoo and Wahid Hamid, both from Pakistan. During the summer of 1981, after his second year in college, he made a "round the world" trip. Stopping to see his mother in Indonesia, next Hyderabad in India, three weeks in Karachi, Pakistan where he stayed with his roommate's family, then off to Africa to visit his father's family. My question - Where did he get the money for this trip? Nether I, nor any one of my children would have had money for a trip like this when they where in college. When he came back he started school at Columbia University in New York. It is at this time he wants everyone to call him Barack - not Barry. Do you know what the tuition is at Columbia? It's not cheap to say the least. Where did he get money for tuition? Student Loans? Maybe. After Columbia, he went to Chicago to work as a Community Organizer for $12,000 a year. Why Chicago? Why not New York? He was already living in New York.

By "chance" he met Antoin "Tony" Rezko, born in Aleppo Syria, and a real estate developer in Chicago. Rezko has been convicted of fraud and bribery this year. Rezko, was named "Entrepreneur of the Decade" by the Arab-American Business and Professional Association". About two years later, Obama entered Harvard Law School. Do you have any idea what tuition is for Harvard Law School? Where did he get the money for Law School? More student loans? After Law school, he went back to Chicago. Rezko offered him a job, which he turned down. But, he did take a job with Davis, Miner, Barnhill & Galland. Guess what? They represented "Rezar" which is Rezko's firm. Rezko was one of Obama's first major financial contributors when he ran for office in Chicago. In 2003, Rezko threw an early fundraiser for Obama which Chicago Tribune reporter David Mendelland claims was instrumental in providing Obama with "seed money" for his U.S. Senate race. In 2005, Obama purchased a new home in Kenwoood District of Chicago for $1.65 million (less than asking price). With ALL those Student Loans - Where did he get the money for the property? On the same day Rezko's wife, Rita, purchased the adjoining empty lot for full price. The London Times reported that Nadhmi Auchi, an Iraqi-born Billionaire loaned Rezko $3.5 million three weeks before Obama's new home was purchased. Obama met Nadhmi Auchi many times with Rezko.

Now, we have Obama running for President. Valerie Jarrett was Michele Obama's boss. She is now Obama's chief advisor and he does not make any major decisions without talking to her first. Where was Jarrett born? Ready for this? Shiraz, Iran! Do we see a pattern here? Or am I going crazy?

On May 10, 2008 The Times reported, Robert Malley advisor to Obama was "sacked" after the press found out he was having regular contacts with "Hamas", which controls Gaza and is connected with Iran. This past week, buried in the back part of the papers, Iraqi newspapers reported that during Obama's visit to Iraq, he asked their leaders to do nothing about the war until after he is elected, and he will "Take care of things".

Oh, and by the way, remember the college roommates that were born in Pakistan? They are in charge of all those "small" Internet campaign contribution for Obama. Where is that money coming from? The poor and middle class in this country? Or could it be from the Middle East?

And the final bit of news. On September 7, 2008, The Washington Times posted a verbal slip that was made on "This Week" with George Stephanapoulos. Obama on talking about his religion said, "My Muslim faith". When questioned, "he make a mistake". Some mistake!

All of the above information I got on line. If you would like to check it - Wikipedia, encyclopedia, Barack Obama; Tony Rezko; Valerie Jarrett: Daily Times - Obama visited Pakistan in 1981; The Washington Times - September 7, 2008; The Times May 10, 2008.

Now the BIG question - If I found out all this information on my own, Why haven't all of our "intelligent" members of the press been reporting this?

A phrase that keeps ringing in my ear - "Beware of the enemy from within"!!!

Heterophiles (like this guy) are even worse. BTW, his newsreader doesn't even format the Newsgroups header properly. White space is not valid according to the RFC, and newsgroups following whitespace will be dropped by many news servers.

Maybe that's why his posts don't propagate well.

There were 3 good arguments that Jesus was Black:
1. He called everyone brother
2. He liked Gospel
3. He didn't get a fair trial

But then there were 3 equally good arguments that Jesus was Jewish:
1. He went into His Father's business
2. He lived at home until he was 33
3. He was sure his Mother was a virgin and his Mother was sure He was God

But then there were 3 equally good arguments that Jesus was Italian:
1. He talked with His hands
2. He had wine with His meals
3. He used olive oil

But then there were 3 equally good arguments that Jesus was a Californian:
1. He never cut His hair
2. He walked around barefoot all the time
3. He started a new religion

But then there were 3 equally good arguments that Jesus was an American Indian:
1. He was at peace with nature
2. He ate a lot of fish
3. He talked about the Great Spirit

But then there were 3 equally good arguments that Jesus was Irish:
1. He never got married.
2. He was always telling stories.
3. He loved green pastures.

But the most compelling evidence of all - 3 proofs that Jesus was a woman:
1. He fed a crowd at a moment's notice when there was virtually no food
2. He kept trying to get a message across to a bunch of men who just didn't get it
3. And even when He was dead, He had to get up because there was still work to do

Think about this one.......... it's good!

A group of graduates, well established in their careers, were talking at a reunion and decided to go visit their old university professor, now retired. During their visit, the conversation turned to complaints about stress in their work and lives. Offering his guests hot chocolate, the professor went into the kitchen and returned with a large pot of hot chocolate and an assortment of cups - porcelain, glass, crystal, some plain looking, some expensive, some exquisite - telling them to help themselves to the hot chocolate.

When they all had a cup of hot chocolate in hand, the professor said:

'Notice that all the nice looking, expensive cups were taken, leaving behind the plain and cheap ones. While it is normal for you to want only the best for yourselves, that is the source of your problems and stress. The cup that you're drinking from adds nothing to the quality of the hot chocolate. In most cases it is just more expensive and in some cases even hides what we drink. What all of you really wanted was hot chocolate, not the cup; but you consciously went for the best cups... And then you began eyeing each others cups.

Now consider this: Life is the hot chocolate; your job, money and position in society are the cups. They are just tools to hold and contain life. The cup you have does not define, nor change the quality of life you have. Sometimes, by concentrating only on the cup, we fail to enjoy the hot chocolate God has provided us.

God makes the hot chocolate, man chooses the cups. The happiest people don't have the best of everything. They just make the best of everything that they have.

Live simply. Love generously. Care deeply. Speak kindly. And enjoy your hot chocolate.

"Consider that language a moment. 'Purposefully and materially supported hostilities against the United States' is in the eye of the beholder, and this administration has proven itself to be astonishingly impatient with criticism of any kind. The broad powers given to Bush by this legislation allow him to capture, indefinitely detain, and refuse a hearing to any American citizen who speaks out against Iraq or any other part of the so-called 'War on Terror.'

"If you write a letter to the editor attacking Bush, you could be deemed as purposefully and materially supporting hostilities against the United States. If you organize or join a public demonstration against Iraq, or against the administration, the same designation could befall you. One dark-comedy aspect of the legislation is that senators or House members who publicly disagree with Bush, criticize him, or organize investigations into his dealings could be placed under the same designation. In effect, Congress just gave Bush the power to lock them up." -- William Rivers Pitt

"When I told Abbie Hoffman that he was the first one who made me laugh since Lenny Bruce died, Hoffman said, "Really? He was my god." The combination of satirical irreverence and sense of justice that Bruce and Hoffman shared was the real spirit behind the Yippies--a term I coined to describe a phenomenon that already existed: an organic coalition of stoned hippies and political activists who engaged in such actions as throwing money on the floor of the New York Stock Exchange, then explaining to reporters the meaning of that symbolism. Folksinger Phil Ochs summed it up: "A demonstration should turn you on, not turn you off." So when journalists link the Yippies with misleading bedfellows, at best it's careless shorthand; at worst it's deliberate demonization. Osama bin Laden wanted an aircraft to crash into the Pentagon. Abbie Hoffman merely wanted to levitate it." -- Paul Krassner, http://tinyurl.com/ehu3v

A young boy went up to his father and asked him," Dad, what is the difference between potentially and realistically?" The father thought for a moment, then answered, "Go ask your mother if she would sleep with Robert Redford for a million dollars. Then ask your sister if she would sleep with Brad Pitt for a million dollars, and ask your brother if he'd sleep with Tom Cruise for a million dollars. Come back and tell me what you learn from that."

So the boy went to his mother and asked, "Would you sleep with Robert Redford for a million dollars?" The mother replied, "Of course I would! I wouldn't pass up an opportunity like that!"

The boy went to his sister and asked, "Would you sleep with Brad Pitt for a million dollars? "The girl replied, "Oh my God! I would just love to do that! I would be nuts to pass up that opportunity!"

The boy went to his brother and asked, "Would you sleep with Tom Cruise for a million dollars?" "Of course", the brother replied. "Do you know how much a million could buy?"

The boy pondered that for a few days, then went back to his dad. His father asked him, "Did you find out the difference between potentially and realistically?"

The boy replied, "Yes, sir. Potentially, we're sitting on three million dollars, but realistically, we're living with two sluts and a fag."

A doll some are claiming utters pro-Islam and even satanic messages has outraged parents in West Virginia and Pennsylvania. Its microchips were programmed by free-lance contractor Roger Wiseman, from Glendale, WV, who now claims that he was not responsible for the voice tracks used by the final models of the talking doll.

People insist they can hear Fisher-Price's "Little Mommy Real Loving Baby Cuddle and Coo" mumbling "Islam is the light" and "Satan is king," according to KJRH.com and MyFOXKC.com.

"There's no markings on the box to indicate there's anything Islamic about this doll," said Gary Rofkahr of Wheeling, WV, who was at work when another man brought the toy in to show his colleagues.

Rofkahr said he found various versions of the doll at local Target and Wal-Mart stores, which have since pulled the toys from their shelves, reported KJRH.com.

Pennsylvania Targets have also reportedly stopped selling the doll, according to MyFOXKC.com.

Fisher-Price referred all calls to parent company Mattel, which didn't immediately respond to FOXNews.com's requests for comment.

A Target representative told KJRH.com the company has no plans to recall the doll nationwide.

"All the other women in the office are suing you for sexual harassment.
"Since you haven't sexually harassed me, I'm suing you for discrimination."

If you lived as a child in the 70's or the 80's, looking back, it's hard to believe that we have lived as long as we have..... As children, we would ride in cars with no seat belts or air bags. Our baby cots were covered with bright coloured lead-based paint. We had no childproof lids on medicine bottles, doors, or cabinets, and when we rode our bikes, we had no helmets.(Not to mention hitchhiking to town as a young kid!)

We drank water from the garden hose and not from a bottle. Horrors. We would spend hours building our go-carts out of scraps and then rode down the hill, only to find out we forgot the brakes. After running into the bushes a few times we learned to solve the problem. We would leave home in the morning and play all day, as long as we were back when the streetlights came on. No one was able to reach us all day. No mobile phones. Unthinkable.

We played dodgeball and sometimes the ball would really hurt. We got cut and broke bones and broke teeth and there were no lawsuits from these accidents. They were accidents. No one was to blame but us. Remember accidents? We had fights and punched each other and got black and blue and learn to get over it.(And mammies never got involved!)

We ate bread and butter, and drank sugary pop but we were never overweight.....we were always outside playing. We shared one bottle of lemonade with four friends, from one bottle and no one died from this?

We did not have Playstations, Nintendo 64, X Boxes, video games and all 99 channels on Sky Digital TV, video tape movies, surround sound personal mobile phones, Personal Computers, Internet chat rooms..... we had friends. We went outside and found them.

We rode bikes or walked to a friend's home and knocked on the door, or rung the bell or just walked in and talked to them. Imagine such a thing. Without asking a parent! By ourselves! Out there in the cold cruel world! Without a guardian. How did we do it?

We made up games with sticks and tennis balls and ate worms and although we were told it would happen, we did not put out very many eyes, nor did the worms live inside us forever.

Our actions were our own. Consequences were expected. No one to hide behind. The idea of a parent bailing us out if we broke a law was unheard of. They actually sided with the law, imagine that! This generation has produced some of the best risk-takers and problem solvers and inventors, ever. The past 50 years has been an explosion of innovation and new ideas. We had freedom, failure, success and responsibility, and we learned how to.

And you're one of them.

CONGRATULATIONS!

Please pass this on to others that have had the luck to grow up as kids, before lawyers and government regulated our lives, for our own good?

John McCain and Barack Obama somehow ended up at the same barbershop.

As they sat there, each being worked on by a different barber, not a Word was spoken. The barbers were even afraid to start a conversation, For fear it would turn to politics.

As the barbers finished their shaves, the one who had McCain in his Chair reached for the after shave.

McCain was quick to stop him saying, 'No thanks, my wife Cindy will Smell that and think I've been in a whorehouse.'

The second barber turned to Obama and said, 'How about you'?

Obama replied, 'Go ahead, my wife doesn't know what the inside of a Whorehouse smells like.'

Guess Osama's wife doesn't know what good perfume smells like!

Charles Krauthammer is a political writer. You can watch him on FOX News almost every weekday in the 6 PM -7 PM slot; he's on in the Commentary' section from 6:30-7 PM.

And in case you are saying - oh, well then... he's just one of those right-wingers.... one of those right-wing nut cases... However, he was involved with Mondale and also Carter - both in the White House. He's a practicing psychiatrist with Mass. General. His syndicate column appears in the Washington Post.

Here is his resume:

Krauthammer was born in New York City to parents of the Jewish religion whose citizenship was French. He was raised in Montreal, Canada where he attended McGill University and obtained an honors degree in political science and economics in 1970.

From 1970 to 1971, he was a Commonwealth Scholar in politics at Balliol College, Oxford. He later moved to the United States where he attended Harvard Medical School.

In his first year there in 1972, Krauthammer was paralyzed in a serious diving accident. Continuing medical studies during his year-long hospitalization, he graduated with his class, earning an M.D. from Harvard Medical School in 1975, and then began working as a psychiatrist at Massachusetts General Hospital.

From 1975-1978, Krauthammer was a Resident and then a Chief Resident in Psychiatry at the Massachusetts General Hospital. During this time he and a colleague identified a form of mania (a part of bipolar disorder) which they named "secondary mania" and published a second important paper on the epidemiology of manic illness. The standard textbook for bipolar disease ("Manic Depressive Illness" by Goodwin and Jamison) contains twelve references to his work.

In 1978, Krauthammer quit medical practice to direct planning in psychiatric research for the Jimmy Carter administration, and began contributing to The New Republic Magazine. During the presidential campaign of 1980, Krauthammer served as a speech writer to Vice President Walter Mondale.

In 1981, following the defeat of the Carter/Mondale ticket, Krauthammer began his journalistic career, joining The New Republic as a writer and editor. His New Republic writings won the 1984 "National Magazine Award for Essays and Criticism."

In 1983, he began writing essays for Time magazine.

In October 1984, he became board certified in psychiatry by the American Board of Psychiatry and Neurology.

In 1985, he began a weekly column for the Washington Post for which he won the 1987 Pulitzer Prize for commentary.

Krauthammer's 2004 speech `Democratic Realism' set out a framework for tackling the post 9/11 world, focusing on the promotion of democracy in the Middle East."

In 2006, the Financial Times named Krauthammer the most influential commentator in America, saying "Krauthammer has influenced US foreign policy for more than two decades. He coined and developed `The Reagan Doctrine' in 1985 and he defined the US role as sole superpower in his essay, `The Unipolar Moment', published shortly after the fall of the Berlin Wall.

Without being malicious or mean spirited, Charles simply tells it like it is ... a master at provoking thoughtful insight by the written word... so read what he has to say and check your own instincts...

'The Perfect Stranger' By Charles Krauthammer

WASHINGTON -- Barack Obama is an immensely talented man whose talents have been largely devoted to crafting, and chronicling, his own life. Not things. Not ideas. Not institutions. But himself.

Nothing wrong or even terribly odd about that, except that he is laying claim to the job of crafting the coming history of the United States. A leap of such audacity is odd. The air of unease at the Democratic convention this week was not just a result of the Clinton psychodrama. The deeper anxiety was that the party was nominating a man of many gifts but precious few accomplishments -- bearing even fewer witnesses.

When John Kerry was introduced at this convention four years ago, an honor guard of a dozen mates from his Vietnam days surrounded him on the podium attesting to his character and readiness to lead. Such personal testimonials are the norm. The roster of fellow soldiers or fellow senators who could from personal experience vouch for John McCain is rather long. At a less partisan date in the calendar, that roster might even include Democrats Russ Feingold and Edward Kennedy, with whom John McCain has worked to fashion important legislation.

Eerily missing at the Democratic convention this year were people of stature who were seriously involved at some point in Obama's life standing up to say: "I know Barack Obama. I've been with Barack Obama. We've toiled/endured together. You can trust him. I do."

Hillary Clinton could have said something like that. She and Obama had, after all, engaged in a historic, utterly compelling contest for the nomination. During her convention speech, you kept waiting for her to offer just one line of testimony: I have come to know this man, to admire this man, to see his character, his courage, his wisdom, his judgment. Whatever. Anything.

Instead, nothing. She of course endorsed him. But the endorsement was entirely programmatic: We're all Democrats. He's a Democrat. He believes what you believe. So we must elect him -- I am currently unavailable -- to get Democratic things done. God bless America .

Clinton's withholding the, 'I've come to know this man' was vindictive and supremely self-serving -- but jarring, too, because you realize that if she didn't do it, no one else would. Not because of any inherent deficiency in Obama's character. But simply as a reflection of a young life with a biography remarkably thin by the standard of presidential candidates.

Who was there to speak about the real Barack Obama? His wife. She could tell you about Barack the father, the husband, the family man in a winning and perfectly sincere way. But that only takes you so far. It doesn't take you to the public man, the national leader.

Who is to testify to that Hillary's husband on night three did aver that Obama is 'ready to lead.' However, he offered not a shred of evidence, let alone personal experience with Obama. And although he pulled it off charmingly, everyone knew that, having been suggesting precisely the opposite for months, he meant not a word of it.

Obama's vice presidential selection, Joe Biden, naturally advertised his patron's virtues, such as the fact that he had 'reached across party lines to ... keep nuclear weapons out of the hands of terrorists.' But securing loose nukes is as bipartisan as motherhood and as uncontroversial as apple pie. The measure was so minimal that it passed by voice vote and received near zero media coverage.

Thought experiment. Assume John McCain had retired from politics. Would he have testified to Obama's political courage in reaching across the aisle to work with him on ethics reform, a collaboration Obama boasted about in the Saddleback debate? 'In fact,' reports the Annenberg Political Fact Check, 'the two worked together for barely a week, after which McCain accused Obama of 'partisan posturing'' -- and launched a volcanic missive charging him with double cross.

So where are the colleagues? The buddies? The political or spiritual soul mates? His most important spiritual adviser and mentor was Jeremiah Wright. But he's out. Then there's William Ayers, with whom he served on a board. He's out. Where are the others?

The oddity of this convention is that its central figure is the ultimate self-made man, a dazzling mysterious Gatsby. The palpable apprehension is that the anointed is a stranger -- a deeply engaging, elegant, brilliant stranger with whom the Democrats had a torrid affair. Having slowly woken up, they see the ring and wonder who exactly they married last night.

Obama And His Left-Of-Liberals Record

By THOMAS SOWELL | Posted Friday, October 10, 2008 4:30 PM PT

Barack Obama's supporters often try to sidestep questions about his character and judgment by saying that we should stick to what they arbitrarily define as "the real issues."

The Real Obama: Part 1 | Part 2 | Part 3 | Part 4

But Sen. Obama's record on specific issues is as bad as his record of repeatedly allying himself over the years with people who make no attempt to hide their hatred of America.

Among the so-called "real issues" are earmarks for senators' pet projects, like the "bridge to nowhere." These are among the most indefensible parts of the inbred Washington political culture, which Obama has so often claimed to be against, as part of his promise of "change" to "clean up the mess in Washington."

Yet Obama not only voted for the bridge to nowhere, he voted against anti-earmark amendments proposed by John McCain.

Rather Raise Taxes

Obama has had more than two dozen of his own earmarks in the past fiscal year, and he knows the Senate well enough to know that, if he voted against the bridge to nowhere, his own earmarks might get nowhere.

Those earmarks, incidentally, included a million dollars of the taxpayers' money for a facility where his wife works at the University of Chicago. Her salary rose by nearly $200,000 when her husband became a United States senator - no doubt a shrewd investment by the university that paid off.

When a highly publicized bridge collapse in Minnesota in 2007 led Sen. Tom Coburn to propose taking money from federal spending on bicycle paths and use it to maintain and repair bridges instead, Obama voted against it. The kind of people who vote for him want bike paths.

Moreover, the very idea of taking money from one thing to use for something with a higher priority - something that we all have to do in our own personal lives - is foreign to the liberal big spenders in Washington. When they want more money for some purpose, they simply raise the tax rates. They don't cut spending somewhere else.

The idea that Barack Obama is somehow different from other liberal-left politicians can only be based on his rhetoric, because his actual track record shows him to differ only in being further left than most liberals and at least as opportunistic.

His talk, however, is another story. The speech Obama gave at the 2004 Democratic convention - which put him on the national map politically - was one that's been aptly described as a speech that would have been almost equally at home if it had been delivered at the Republican convention.

In the world of rhetoric - the world in which Obama is supreme - he is a moderate, reasonable man, reaching out to unite people and parties, dedicated to reform, opposed to special interests and a healer of the racial divide.

It is only in the real world of action that Barack Obama is the direct opposite. He has pushed for federal subsidies for ethanol, for example, as other Midwestern senators have, since a lot of corn is grown in the Midwest to be turned into ethanol.

Shadowy Past

He is 100% behind the teachers unions in their fight to preserve their grip on the public schools and exempt their members from being judged by performance instead of seniority - which is to say, he is throwing the students, and especially minority students - to the wolves.

Obama would never call voting for ethanol subsidies a vote for "special interests," any more than he called his total support of the teachers unions a matter of special interests, even though teachers unions are the biggest obstacle to changing the status quo in public schools that have failed American children in general and minority children in particular.

Barack Obama's track record on "real issues" is no better than his track record on issues of character and judgment. The media's track record of conveying the facts to the public is a travesty of their claims about "the public's right to know."

If John McCain had made half as many gaffes as Barack Obama - "all 57 states," for example - they would be picturing him as senile. Meanwhile, the prospect of a nuclear-armed Iran supplying its terrorist surrogates with nukes does not interest the media nearly as much as scoring "gotchas" against Sarah Palin.

You're afraid of being reported to the authorities or, better, visited by a couple of guys with baseball bats. Other people don't have this obsessive fear. Ward Hardman himself has posted plenty of personal information - nothing that anyone else added was hidden in any way. You're so fucking scared you've built up this whole sick mythology about different categories of bad dudes who 'out' scum like you.
